Mayor vetoes delay of license

By HENRY CANTIN

A formal resolution deferring indefinitely any action on Class C liquor licenses approved by Romulus City Council has been vetoed by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The veto was the second by Mayor Carmichael since his election to the mayor's post in May, 1970 and was issued under the powers granted the major under the City Charter.

The council's resolution was based on a motion made by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek, who was supported by Councilman Brooker R. Edwards.

Bizek's motion asked that any action on liquor licenses be tabled indefinitely until such time as the council and administration can study all the applications properly.

The number of applicants seeking the six Class C licenses allotted the City of Romulus by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission now stands at 57.

The council's vote on the resolution was 4-3.

Voting for the resolution were Council President Jimmie Raspberry Councilmen Ellis T. Pennington, Edmund W. Bizek and Brooker R. Edwards.

The councilmen who opposed the resolution, at the [illegible] William M. Oakley, James [illegible]evills Stewart and Fred Junior Block.

It now would take a vote of 5-2 of the council to override the veto.

The decision to defer indefinitely any action on the six Class C liceneses followed a third appearance before the council of attorneys and representatives of the Ramada Inn of Romulus.

Ramada Inn, at an earlier council meeting had been denied its request for a Class C license. Council members who opposed the issuance of the license wanted time to study all applications that had been filed.

At last week's council session, Ramada Inn' attorney William Moshier, formally presented the request to transfer its 1971 tenmonths resort Tavern license from Green Oak Township in Livingston County to Romulus, and also requested a transfer of classification from Resort Tavern to Resort Class B-Hotel 12-months license and a waiver by the city council of rights to current licensing fees involved in the transfer, since the fees, already have been paid to Green Oak Township.

Ramada Inn's counsel reported the transfer requests would nut deduct from the six Class C licenses now available for the council's distribution.

In an opinion by the city attorney John E. Young, the transfer of the Resort Tavern license from Green Oak

Sewer, water contract awarded by city council

The construction contract for the third phase of Romulus' 1971 Sanitary Sewer and Water Extensions Program has been awarded to the I & T Equipment Inc. and Ernie Capoccia Equipment Inc., both of 28165 Greenfield Rd., Southfield, by the Romulus City Council.

A bid of $291,580 submitted by the two firms was the lowest of 20 received.

The bids received by the city engineers, Wade, Trim & Associates of Taylor ranged up to a high of $419,071, submitted by Ackron Contracting Co. Inc. of Belleville.

Charles C. Hellman, city engineer, recommended acceptance of the I & T Equipment Inc. and Ernie Capoccia Equipment Inc. proposal.

The construction contract approved calls for the work to be substantially completed by March, 1972.

The sanitary sewer extensions included in phase three of the 1971 construction program are: south side of Northline Road from Homefield to Harrison Road and from an easement west of [illegible] Road to Goddard Road North.

The water line extensions are: Henry Ruff Road from Ecorse Road to Van Born Road; Middlebelt Road from Lorman Street to Goddard Road; meter pit on Middlebelt Road south of Wick Road; Ecorse Road from Birchdale Street to Inkster Road; Pennsylvania Road from Middlebelt Road west to existing main; Pennsylvania Road from existing main east of Vining Road to existing main west of Merriman Road

Industrial facility to be built

A one-st[illegible] industrial facility is being built in Romulus by Metro Machine Sales of 242 Mulberry St., Wyandotte.

The 100 by 100-foot building will cost an estimated $65,000 according to a building permit issued by the Romulus Building Department.

The facility will be located on the south side of Northline road between Harrison and Inkster Roads.

Lack of interest ends recall drive

A recall campaign against Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and the city's seven-man council, initiated by a group headed by John R. Sabich of 9452 Barry St., Romulus, has been discontinued, Sabich reported Monday.

Sabich, an inspector at the General Motors plant in Livonia, reported interest in the recall petition drive is lagging.

About 60 recall petitions have been circulated in a drive for 1,248 signers, required for a recall election, according to [illegible] the feasibility of [illegible] sessions.

He and some supporters initiated the recall campaign following the July 28 decision of Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer against an injunction request to halt the law enforcement takeover by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Dvision.

The Romulus Police Officers Association (RPOA) had started a court suit against the city, charging that the City Charter adopted in May, 1970 called for a city-operated police department and not an outside agency.

On Aug. 10 a five-year contract between the city and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department was signed by city and county officials.

In terminating the recall petition drive, Sabich said:

"It is quite apparent that the interest in the recall petition drive is lagging. Recent estimates of the number of signatures obtained to this date come nowhere near the [illegible] required. Petition[illegible]ators move [illegible]erminated.

who were questioned about the lagging interest stated that even though much comment has been heard, even recently, criticizing the local officials for their actions at board meetings, citizen interest has become increasingly passive rather than active.

"It seems too bad that an opportunity like this is going down the drain, when, with a little bit of effort, it could have been a huge success.

"Therefore at this time I feel it is my personal obligation to advise that I [illegible] requesting all Loud complaints but who can hear?

Numerous complaints by Romulus residents attending recent sessions of City Council, including some city officials, about the public address system installed in the new City Council chambers prompted the council to request an immediate investigation.

Residents complained they can not hear comments and rulings made by the council as well as those who appear before the governing body.

They also complained the councilmen failed at times to speak into microphones situated in front of each councilman's seat at the council table.

Councilman James C. Stewart made a motion that the Romulus Building Authority, operators of the new Municipal Building, which was dedicated Sept. 19, check into the public address system as well as the air conditioning system, which also drew complaints from some council members, and report back to the council on Oct. 14.

The council approved the motion.

Group OK'd to get ball field light

The Romulus City Council has by formal resolution approved the formation of a Lighted Softball Field Committee.

The committee was formed by a group of Romulus residents who have taken it upon themselves to raise the necessary finances to purchase lights for a softball field which is included in the initial plans for the development of Elmer Johnson Park as the city's municipal park.

The city council acted on the recommendation of the Romulus Recreation Commission.

The commission has unanimously approved the Lighted Softball Field Committee at an earlier commission session and granted the committee the right to name the softball field.

The council also granted the recreation commission its request to have softball games played under the lights during the month of April, 1972.

A recommendation of the recreation commission that Wade, Trim & Associates, an engineering and consulting firm of Taylor, be hired by the city to do the land planning for Elmer Johnson Park was also approved by the council.

Funds for the development of a recreation master plan and for programs, including the development of Elmer Johnson Park, will be from the Department of Natural Resources.

An application for funds in the amount of $58,300 under provisions of The Michigan Recreation Bond Act has been filed with the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) by the city.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has been appointed by the council as grant officer for the purpose of entering into agreements and receiving the funds from the DNR.

The recommendations approved by the council were submitted by DuWayne Martin, chairman of the Romulus Recreation Commission.

Teacher rediscovers little bit of nostalgia

By HENRY CANTIN

Mrs. Dorothy Weekly, a first grade teacher in the Romulus Community School District, rediscovered a bit of her childhood in an unusual manner during her class session last week.

Mrs. Weekly, 24, of 35789 Smith St., Romulus, who teaches first grade at the Harrison Elementary School, came across her old school lunch pail after more than 13 years.

That in itself may seem strange enough, but the way she came across it is stranger still.

Mrs. Weekly was routinely tagging lunch pails from each of her pupils. The pupils had only lately been ordered by the school to discard their beloved brown bags in favor of the more sturdy lunch pails.

Little Charlie Wilson, 6, of 15689 Isabelle St., Romulus in compliance with the school's order brought a square metal type lunch box to school. Mrs. Weekly accepted the lunch box and was preparing to tag it for Charlie when she suddenly stopped.

Marked on the side of the lunch box was Mrs. Weekly's maiden name still legible — Dorothy Murray.

Mrs. Weekly had lugged the old lunch box throughout her attendance at the Beverly Elementary School, Romulus.

"I was surprised at seeing my old lunch bucket. I carried it until the end of the sixth grade. Then what happened to it I have no idea. My, strange things do happen at times, don't they?"

Wherever it had been, the old lunch pail survived and turned up in a Romulus Salvation Army depot that was also loaded with other cast off treasures.

Mrs. Ellen Wilson, Charlie's mother, who has five other children, stops at the depot occassionally and takes a look at the depot's fascinating collection. It was there that she picked up the lunch pail, along with a box full of other items for $2.

Upon rediscovering the tattered old lunch box, Mrs. Weekly made a deal with Charlie to trade for a new one. Charlie agreed.

Asked what she will do with her old lunch box, Mrs. Weekly said, "You can do wonders with decoupage. It was an old friend and even though it shows all of those 13 years, it can be made beautiful."

Mrs. Weekly added that she plans on turning the lunch box into a hand bag to use on special occasions.

Mrs. Weekly is married and the mother of one son, Sean, who is nine months old.

AN UNUSUAL GIFT FOR THE TEACHER — Charlie Wilson, 6, of 15689 Isabelle St., Romulus, first grader at the Harrison Elementary School, Romulus presents his teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Weekly of 35789 Smith St., Romulus, with a lunch bucket she used while attending grade school in Romulus 13 years ago.

Romulus woman killed in Van Buren crash

The Road Patrol Division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Office is investigating the death of a Romulus woman who was fatally injured in a two-car collision in Van Buren Township Saturday night.

Dead on arrival at the Wayne County General Hospital was Miss Carol Skaggs, 26, of 7339 Dodge, Romulus.

Miss Skaggs was a passenger in a car being driven south on Sumpter Road by Billy Wallace, 44, of 1270 Middlebelt Rd., Inkster.

According to police, a car driven by Harry A. McMaster, 27, of 8520 Wahrman Rd., Romulus, was traveling in the northbound lane on Sumpter Road when it swerved into the southbound lane, colliding with the Wallace car.

The accident occurred in an area of the road about 100 yards from the Hull Road crossing.

A slight curve exists in the two-lane Sumpter Road near where the "head-on" crash occurred, police reported.

Dt. Richard Williams of the road patrol reported Monday that an investigation of the crash is continuing to determine liability.

Both Wallace and McMaster were treated at Wayne County General Hospital and released.

PCHA board unanimously accepts new audit

By PAMELA WATT
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

In one of the few moves of uninamity Thursday night, the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) accepted the audit of the authority and its four member hospitals recently completed by the auditing firm of Arthur Young & Co.

The action came, however, only after a small faction of the board, which has been notably critical of the authority's leadership, raised numerous objections throughout the meeting to certain procedural matters, executive committee recommendations, a proposed radiology contract and the audit itself.

The audit, detailing the financial picture of the central office and each of the four hospital units, reveals the authority is, on the surface at least, in relatively good financial shape. Assets of the authority and the hospitals totaled about $40.35 million, up about $1.1 million over last year's total assets.

The authority's equity in these assets increased about $721,000 during the year ending last June 30. Net income for the four hospitals combined totaled $962,000 in the past fiscal year, as compared to $713,000 the year before.

One interesting fact was that Seaway Hospital in Trenton, for the first time, ended up generating more money than had been put into it. Formerly both Seaway and Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti had been ending up in the red, being supported by Annapolis Hospital in Wayne and Outer Drive Hospitals in Lincoln Park.

Ecorse Councilman Tracy Salisbury, outspoken critic of authority Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti and Executive Director Dr. Karl S. Clicka, raised an objection to the method in which the auditing firm was detailing its fees.

His objection stemmed from the fact that the firm itemized its fees between the central office and each of the hospitals, since audits of all five offices are done.

Salisbury, a member-at-large, felt that procedure hid from PCHA members the total auditing costs, which approach $70,000.

Salisbury and Sumpter Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi teamed up against a contract between the authority and the radiology departments of Annapolis and Beyer Memorial Hospitals, up before the board for approval.

Dr. Klicka, negotiating for three months with the departments' four radiologists, stressed the vital necessity of approving the contract, terming it "one of the most difficult areas I've ever encountered in this area."

The one-year contract being renegotiated was different from last year's in that the radiologists would receive 30 instead of 29 per cent of the profits of the radiology department, meaining an income of about $100,000 for each doctor.

Dr. Klicka emphasized that most radiologists demand about 35 per cent and stressed the scarcity of radiologists.

Clarence R. Constan, Dearborn Heights representative, presented a list of questons concerning the contract after both Salisbury and Parraghi demanded time to study the pact at the meeting. Only Salisbury and Parraghi voted against it.

The board also approved engaging the services of the auditing firm to assist the administration in recruiting candidates for the position of controller of the authority, replacing Elmer J. Mathia, who is leaving partially because of the controversy caused by wrangling among board members.

The proposal met with opposition from some members, who felt the $4,000-$5,000 which the auditing firm may get for its help would be spent unnecessarily, since the administration or authority's personnel committee could recruit candidates.

Members also felt hiring the authority's auditing firm might be a conflict of interest. A spokesman for Arthur Young & Co. said the firm often recruited candidates for its clients.

Parraghi challenged chairman Pizzimenti's ruling after the voice vote on the issue, but a roll call vote failed to muster enough support to bring it to vote again.

In other action the board:

— Approved authorization of Harley Ellington Associates, architects, to proceed with the working drawings for the expansion of the diagonistic services buildings at Annapolis and Outer Drive hospitals, a $5 million project;

— accepted a bid of $28,300 from the Wayne County Road Commission for PCHA owned land in Canton Township, to be used by the county for its Lower Rouge Parkway system.

New members elected to urban renewal group

The winners of an election to membership on the Citizens. District Council of the Romulus urban renewal program have been announced by Urban Renewal Director George Wilhelmi.

The election was held at the Beverly Elementary School, 35408 Beverly Rd., Romulus on Sept. 21.

Named to fill three-year terms on the 25-member Citizens District Council were the following seven Romulus area residents: Mrs. Zeffie Beanum, Stephen Grzelik, Miss Jeaunine Wafer, Joseph Lamar, Mrs. Ethel Lamar, Mrs. Dorothy Phenix who was re-elected; Perry C. Gray and Oliver Warren.

In a report on the council's progress of last year, Mrs. Phenix, chairman of the council, said to members of the Romulus Community Urban Renewal staff, and District Council members:

"I would like to share with you a brief history of the progress made by this council for the past year.

"The membership is made up of twenty-five (25) members of this community that are interested in the betterment and welfare of the place in which we live. The State legislature states that we must exist wherever there is an urban renewal program or a proposed program in effect.

"Please allow me to state that we do not receive pay for any of our meetings. We represent the total community. Therefore, we must have the interest of the community at heart.

"Visibly we haven't made any record-breaking achievements because we have been busy completing the ground work for a strong foundation for you.

"Our regular meetings have been held once a month. We have met many times. Sometimes at the reques[t] or urban renewal director sometimes because we fel[t] developments warranted it and sometimes with other committees within the community. We held a very important special meeting with the executive head of our city, and several meetings with the city council, the governing body. We solicited and received your support in many instances.

"We feel proud that we can boldly state that we influenced the affirmative 6-1 vote by the city council for the adoption of the urban renewal program in Area 1, for which the federal government released $3.5 million.

"Now that the program has finally gotten off the ground, the work is just beginning. We are working for a better community for all. One day we will be compensated for our work when we can look with pride at a beautiful total community that will attract the eye of passers-by.

"Citizens District Council members, some of you have been a pillar of strength and have given strong support. Some of you have motivated me into exploring new of thought. All of you have given your untiring support as members of this great council.

"Plans have been made to purchase a tape recorder with cassettes. Let the records show that it's purpose is to establish a library so that accurate records may be kept and referred to long after the completion of this community and there will no longer be a need for a Citizen's District Council.

"[T]hose of you [w]ho may be [s]eeking election as a member [o]f this council, if you are not willing to give of yourself for the betterment of the total community, this is no place for you. It is hard work but it is rewarding.

I shall seek re-election as a council member only because of my love for mankind and a desire to serve you by working for a better community for all."

Vigilance against fires called for by marshal

Fire pollutes our environment as much as fume-filled air, waste-filled water or litter-filled land.

This observation by Col. John R. Plants, State Police director and Michigan's fire marshal, provides some thoughts on Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9.

Plants, noting this is an ideal time to step up fire safety practices at home and on the job, said, "Increased vigilance against fire is the only way to reduce its destructive effects on our environment."

Plants pointed out that fire destroyed more than $114 million worth of Michigan property last year. In addition, 260 people lost their lives in some 88,643 fires in 1970.

"This is 'pollution' where it really hurts—physically, emotionally, financially, in every way," Plants said.

As with other kinds of pollution, he points out, the answer to the fire problem begins with individuals. "We must change the habits that so commonly cause fires—careless smoking, negligent handling of fuels, thoughtlessness around open fires, for example," he said.

And according to the state's top fire officials,' "we must take protective action, preplanning home escape measures in case of fire and making sure children are competently supervised at all times."

Belleville supermarket is open round-the-clock

Foodville Super Market, one of Western Wayne County area's leading food centers, is now open 24 hours a day.

The new sales operation, reported to be the first in Western Wayne County, was announced Monday by store owners Albert W. Bizzo and his wife, Virginia.

The popular food center is located at 425 Main St., Belleville. The largest independent supermarket in the Belleville area, it has been the headquarters for the needs of many area families.

The store hours under the new "24-hour-a-day" operation, which began on Monday, Oct. 4, will be 12:15 a.m. Monday until midnight Saturday. Sunday hours will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The new operation will be on trial basis until the first of the year (1972). A decision will then be made on continuing the operation, Rizzo reported.

The new store hours at Foodville are just another program initiated for the benefit of the store's clientele.

It is also part of a continuing program on the part of store management and staff in striving to make Foodville as pleasant, efficient and economical as possible for the Belleville area community.

The Rizzos opened Foodville in 1968 and have completely remodeled and enlarged the store with varied displays of assorted merchandise, meats and produce and other household items.

Available to cursomers in the supermarket's meat department are the newest and most modern techniques in self-service. In operation are triple-deck cases and equipment for a better and bigger assortment, as well as see-through plastic wrapping. Other innovations designed for the service of customers have been installed.

Rizzo, 41, and his wife and family of three sons are residents of Belleville. They moved to Belleville from their former home at Union Lake near Pontiac.

Rizzo was born in Central City, Pa., and his wife in Detroit. Both are experienced market operating veterans.

Prior to coming to Belleville and becoming the owners of Foodville, Rizzo was a partner in a Clarkston, Mich. supermarket.

Enrollments at high in Romulus and Huron

Student enrollments in both the Romulus Community School District and the Huron School District are at record highs, it was reported this week by school administrators.

Assistant Superintendent William E. Jakad of the Romulus Community School District reported the fourth Friday count of student enrollment showed that 6,335 students are now attending classes in Romulus schools.

This is an increase of 488 students over the 1970-71 school enrollment of 5,847 and represents a new high in the school district's enrollment lists.

A breakdown of the 1971-72 student enrollment shows that 3,832 students are in the elementary schools, 948 students in the junior high school and 1,495 in the senior high school. In addition, there are 50 taking courses in adult education and 10 homebound students.

Carl Renton, business manager of the Huron School District, reported student enrollments totaled 2518, also a new high in enrollment for the school district. This compares with 2441 students last year. He disclosed that students in K-12 grades dropped off but the decrease was offset by an increase in adult education. A breakdown of student enrollment was not available at edition time.

State aid to Michigan school districts is based on the fourth Friday student enrollment count. Totals of student enrollment must be in Lansing this month.

City will extend tax bill deadline

The deadline on assessing penalties on Romulus city property tax bills has been extended from Sept. 30 to Oct. 29, Albert Glinski, city treasurer, announced Monday.

The deadline extension was due to the current tax bills being sent out one month late.

City taxes will be due on Oct. 29 and commending Nov. 1 one-half of one per cent will be added for every month thereafter, Glinski reported.

The one month delay in sending out city property tax statements was caused by city budget preparations by the city council.

County and school taxes are not due until Decmber.

Seniors club plans projects

Two new members were welcomed at a recent meeting of the Romulus Senior Citizens Club.

A committee was formed to plan new projects for the fall activities program, including a bazaar. The next planned outing for members will be a trip to Skipper's Table Restaurant.

Mayor vetoes

Township to Romulus would not deduct from the six but there appeared to be a question on the transfer of the resort license from a 10-months license to a B-Hotel 12-months license.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry requested a clarification of this point from the legal counsel of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Mayor Carmichael said that he vetoed the resolution because, in his opinion, it eliminates the possibility of further discussion licenses being transferred into the city.

PTA offers chance for 'people' to act

The Parents and Teachers Association (PTA) is an area of activity ever increasing in importance. It is an area of activity when people can take action where it counts.

Our local schools, as well as schools across the nation, are facing more problems than ever before in the history of public education.

Problems that range from overcrowded classrooms to student drug abuse will take the highest level of performance from all concerned to overcome.

The National PTA, a multi-million-member organization with 40,000 local units in all 50 states, is doing something about these and other problems which directly affect the welfare of children.

The local PTA units in the cities of Romulus and Belleville and adjacent communities have made much progress toward better educational programs, services and along the lines of better school-community relations.

For those parents and teachers who are concerned with present day problems confronting school administrators, as well as improving student-school relations, PTA is an area where their talents, assistance and cooperation can be of great help.

The local PTA unit is one of the important arenas where the ideas, views and suggestions of the participants can be united toward the welfare of the student and improving school-community relations.

To those parents and teachers who are concerned we urge membership in the local PTA and let their voices be heard.

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Oct. 6, 1946 — Don Comer, who has owned and operated a cab service in Wayne for several years announced the sale of his Wayne Cab Service to Charles E. (Buck) Gates, a resident of Wayne for 25 years.

Transactions took place last week and "Buck" took charge of his new business today. The office, at 34921 Michigan Ave., and the phone number remain the same.

The Student Congress of Wayne High School has its activities of the year well under way, with weekly meetings keeping them abreast of conditions and events.

President of the organization is Tex Favors, who was elected vice president in the spring elections, but was elevated to the key position by the absence of president-elect John Marshall, who entered the service during the summer. Jim Green, captain of the 1946 football team, was recently elected vice president. Other officers are Virginia Bradke, recording secretary; Gloria Talmadge, corresponding secretary; Mary Mardirsian, treasurer, and Ted Neff, parliamentarian.

Van Buren Township voters are going to have an opportunity to register for the November 5th election, but the registration time is limited.

Confronted with the huge task of registering eligible voters before the deadline Oct. 16, the new township interim officers appointed by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors have buckled down to the job and have completed arrangements for facilitating this registration. The temporary Van Buren officials who will serve until a special election can be held are Carl Gotts, supervisor; Mrs. George Renton, clerk, and David McMullan, treasurer.

15 YEARS AGO

Oct. 6, 1956 — The planning commission of the Village of Wayne is preparing to hold public meetings in November on at least three elements of the master plan that must be legally dopted. These include the thoroughfare plan, the parking plan and the civic center area plan. At subsequent meetings, they will then order the park, playground and public area plan.

John Paugh of Inkster is included in the 33-man Michigan Tech football squad this year. Paugh, who is attending Michigan College of Mining and Tehnology at Houghton, will be among the players to face Northern Michigan College of Marquette at Tech's annual homecoming Oct. 13. This will be the 58th meeting of these two elevens, a series which dates back to 1920. Tech has won, 31 lost 21 and five games have ended in ties.

At the Garden City Business and Professional Women's harvest season games party a the Burger Jr. High School more than 150 club members were entertained by Beverly and Charlene Kish's songs and tap dancing, hula dance, accordian solos and rhythm dances by a U.S.O. troupe of eight girls. Pinochle, canasta, bunco and other games were played.

Rex Russ, president of the Belleville School PTA, has invited all parents, guardians and friends to the first PTA meeting for the 1956-57 school year.

The meeting will be held in the cafeteria room of the Belleville High School building on Oct. 15, at 8 p.m.

ONE YEAR AGO

Oct. 6, 1970 — Girls at Cherry Hill School want the right to wear slacks to school and are willing to fight for it — in a ladylike way.

A group of high school girls, using the direct approach, appeared at the board of education meeting dressed in a variety of pants suits and slacks outfits to prove that slacks are acceptable in the classroom.

The Canton Township Planning Commission took no official action at its meeting, tabling the three items on the agenda because a representative of the township's consultant firm, Parkins and Rogers, was not present.

All items on the agenda will be considered at the next planning commission meeting.

Miss Ruth Knot of South Wayne Rd. came before the City Council with a small complaint. She thought that she should not have to pay for repair of her driveway approach if the county was to widen the road within the year as she has heard.

Unicameral system opposed

By U.S. CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM D. FORD, 15th District

I would like to comment on the petition campaign now under way by the Michigan Jaycees to seek a referendum on the matter of changing Michigan's constitution to provide for a unicameral (one-house) legislature.

Let me state first that, as a charter member of the Taylor Jaycees, I am aware of and proud of their interest in governmental affairs and of their initiative in bringing this and other major issues to the attention of the public. I have no questions as to their high motives in this current issue. They are truly upholding their traditional image as "young men of action."

As a former state senator and as a member of the convention which drafted Michigan's present Constitution in 1960-61, I am personally familiar with the state legislative system and with the proposal for a unicameral legislature, which was considered at length during the convention proceedings.

There are some arguments in favor of a one-house legislature, but there are many more weighty arguments in opposition.

The two-house system has the advantage of utilizing the "checks and balances" concept that is a vital part of our governmental system at all levels.

On the federal level, in Congress, members of the House of Representatives represent their own district, while senators represent the entire state. At the state level, representatives speak for relatively small areas, often one community or a part of it, while senators represent much larger geographic areas, usually covering several communities.

The senator, thus, is inclined to consider issues on a broader basis than a Representative, who is more apt to give greater weight to narrower local interests.

Another important argument for the two-house system lies in the fact that legislation must be considered twice, usually with an interval between, so that public attention can be given to legislative proposals before final approval by the second house.

This is particularly true in the case of controversial or far-reaching proposals, which sometimes do not receive widespread publicity until after they have been passed by one house. The second house then considers the proposed legislation after its merits or demerits have been aired in the press and the public have had an opportunity to make its views known.

With a single legislative body, a bill could be enacted into law before the press and public were aware of its provisions and long-range implications.

The final decision on changing to a unicameral system will be made, of couse, by the voters if enough signatures are obtained to put the issue on the ballot. I would urge the electorate to study all aspects of the question thoroughly before they make up their minds on the value of the change.

Speaking of schools

Romulus schools using facilities

By WILLIAM R. SMITH Romulus Community Schools Director

A very popular childhood game has always been "Follow the Leader." In a sense, it is a game that the Romulus Community Schools are now playing.

The leader in this case is Flint and its long-established community school program.

Romulus, attempting to follow Flint's excellent example, is beginning its second year of community school programming and is showing signs of making great progress.

At this point, however, you may ask, "What is a community school program, and why is Flint often referred to as a leader in community school development?"

The answers to your questions are nearly 40 years old! In 1935, a group of dedicated Flint citizens decided that school buildings should no longer be locked securely after the last child left each afternoon. Rather, the schools should remain open as long as the taxpayers of the community wanted to use them.

With this concept in mind, evening recreation programs were developed for school gymnasiums, classrooms were made available for adult education classes and the gates of school playgrounds were finally thrown open for afternoon and weekend enjoyment, The schools, at last, were being used in the most efficient and effective manner...by the very people who were paying for them through taxes!

This new concept of school-building use became known as "community school programming." Its popularity since the mid-thirties has spread to all parts of the country.

In Toledo, for instance, the community school program is known as the Lighted Schoolhouse project. The movement in Utah has been termed Community Education. In other parts of the country, community school programs arre often referred to as Continuing Education.

No matter what the name, however, the community school movement means one thing...schools belong to the people and people of all ages should be able to use them as much as possible troughout the day. During this year alone, more than 30 million adults will realize this extended use of school facilities as they participate in the hundreds of communiy school programs across the nation. The Romulus Community School program currently includes four major areas. The first of these, Adult Education, has attracted more than 150 adults who have indicated a willingness to revisit school in order to polish up their academic skills. A high school diploma awaits them, as well as the many advantages such an achievement can bring in today's job market.

Adult classes generally meet on weekday evenings, and subjects include traditional courses such as American government, psychology, English and mathematics. Other classes are more specialized in design and include reading improvement programs, individualized writing assistance and "refresher" math lessons for parents of the modern math generation.

Of course, the adult education program costs money to organize and administer, but adult classes are underwritten by state and federal funds. In this manner, these classes can be made available to non-diploma students without cost!!

Another aspect of the Romulus Community School program centers around vocational and technical classes for out-of-school youth. Currently consisting of classes in cosmetology and auto-mechanics, the program is separate from regular high school activities and is funded through the federal government. Classes meet in the afternoons, evenings and week-ends so as not to interrupt existing student work schedules.

A third area of the Community School program involves classes offered by Wayne County Community College. Two community college classes meet each week at the Senior High School, and more are anticipated for the spring semester.

The final major portion of the Community School program is in the area of special interest and enrichment. These activities are designed primarily for the recreational experiences of Romulus area residents, and include classes in such fields as sewing, guitar, decoupage, fitness and the recently revived art of macrame.

Nearly 100 adults have signed up for such activities, with classes in different areas of interest also being planned. The funding for special interest and enrichment is carried out through student fees established solely to provide for instructional costs.

Plans are being designed for other areas of involvement, including a driver's education class and the reintroduction of a testing program. As community needs are made known, the Romulus schools hope to offer further programs of community interest and benefit.

Romlus is on the move, and the Romulus Community Schools system is just one of the many cooperating agencies waiting to serve you!

Belleville library thanks garden club

To the editor:

Heartfelt thanks to the "beautiful people" of the Van Buren Garden Club who appeared unheralded Sept. 22 and in two hours transformed the library grounds to a semblance of what they were meant to be.

Rakes scraped, hoes chopped, clippers clipped and gone were the shrubs of weeds and man-sized seedlings. Bags were filled, stones swept and the debris picked up by the DPW. May things never be so neglected again!

The impetus came from the Tuesday meeting of the Van Buren Club at the home of Mrs. Irene Russell. Those who joined her were - Mrs. Jean Randall, Mrs. Dorothy Kapalansky, Mrs. Marie Graham, and the Rev. Charles Dibley.

Sincere thanks from the Patrons and Staff of the Belleville Library.

P.O. Box 'Drugs'

As a service to our readers, the Enterprise-Roman is printing this release from the Community Commission on Drug Abuse. Send all inquiries to the Commission, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, Michigan, 48151.

Q. I ... am doing a term paper on the relation (if any) between drugs and sex. Do you have any information on this ... or could you provide any bibliographical information?

R.N., Livonia

A. We'll be glad to do what we can. Could you send us a copy of your term paper when it's completed? The combination of topics you've chosen should certainly make for stimulating reading.

It's not completely clear from your question whether you are interested in 1) the general topic of whether or not the use of drugs lead to sexual promiscuity, or 2) whether certain drugs have an effect on sexual performance and satisfaction. If your interest is in1), this is impossible to document with any degree of reliability for a number of reasons.

If you are planning on doing the paper on the second statement, there has been some research done in this area that has some meaning.

Within the confines of this column it would be best to limit our answer to some general considerations of the subject. The first rule is that there are no known aphrodisiacs available in this country at this time — either within or without the area of drugs of abuse.

The second general principle is that although there are no drugs known to increase sexual capabilities, there are many which are known to have a negative effect. That class of drugs known as "depressants" is fairly notorious for producing such a negative effect — especially, in high doses used in drug abuse. Specifically these drugs would include alcohol, sleeping pills, tranquillizers and narcotics — especially heroin. They eventually have the effect — more so in high doses — of blunting physical sensations. About all that can be said of the depressants as aphrodisiacs is that in low doses they may for some people and under certain circumstances relax inhibitions, and thus facilitate sex. It should be remembered that both male impotence and female frigidity are medical problems, and that self-medication for this purpose could be either ineffective or counter-productive — and in some cases dangerous.

There has been much written about the hallucinogens as aphrodisiacs, most of it highly irresponsible from a medical standpoint. The best example of this (or the worst) would be Timothy Leary's article in Playboy Magazine some years ago claiming all sorts of such effects from LSD. His statements have not been documented and are, today, in general disrepute. All of the reports on hallucinogens and sex — and especially marihuana — can fairly well be condensed into two statements.:

1) Hallucinogens may relax inhibitions as outlined above concerning depressants.

2) Many hallucinogens tend to produce an effect of seeming to slow down the passage of time, and thus give the feeling of prolonging experiences including sexual ones.

Balanced against these are all sorts of problems that may arise. Response is unpredictable: nothing at all may happen, there may be panic instead of relaxation and pleasure. This class of drugs tends to often turn one's thoughts inward — to no effect. Then there are the psychological dangers that may arise from the use of hallucinogens — especially (but not exclusively), the "harder" ones.

The stimulants, such as the amphetamines, also have been touted as having aphrodisiac properties. Properly speaking they do not. There is some indication that dangerously large doses by injection may have some effect, but the reports indicate that progressively greater doses become necessary in a short period of time after which there is no effect at all, and temporary impotence may result.

Finally, there are the "folk remedy" sorts of claimed aphrodisiacs. The two classic examples are cantharides and yohimbine. Claims of their effectiveness persists in spite of documentation to the contrary, time and time again. Some of this will show up in the bibliography we will try to provide in a week or two.

In conclusion, you can apparently file the whole thing under the heading "Hope Springs Eternal in the Human Breast..

State superintendent urges early settlement of contracts

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. John W. Porter Wednesday expressed concern about the number of teacher contracts still unsettled and urged all to continue bargaining in good faith.

Porter said recent figures showed that approximately 70 per cent of the state's school districts have not reached contract settlements.

"In some districts, teachers are working without contracts," Porter said. "In others, work interruptions have occurred. In at least one district — Trenton — reports indicate that bargaining has broken down completely."

Porter said he and the State Board of Education are well aware of the problems caused by the wage-price freeze, "which have been compounded by considerable confusion emanating from federal officials by way of directives, press staements and the like."

"Nevertheless," he said, "It is the duty of all parties engaged in bargaining situations to negotiate in good faith, making the utmost effort to reach agreements.

"It would be tragic," Porter said, "If even one child were to suffer educati nally from —No school district shall reduce its commitment to students because of confusion surrounding the wage-price freeze.

Romulus scouts resume activities, invite members

A Scout Back to School Night" was held recently at Harrison Elementary School, Romulus, for boys and adults interested in joining the Scout movement.

The evening was hosted by the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of Troop 1739 and the adult committees and leaders of both units.

The Boy Scout troop openea the event with a color guard. During the evening a film was shown of the Webelo's den spending a day at the D-Bar-A scout ranch.

The Cub Scout pack, composed of boys ages 8 to 10, will now start to hold weekly den meetings and work on advancement. Outings and activites coming up in the near future will be announced shortly.

The Boy Scout troop has been meeting every Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Harrison School. The patrols have started fall meetings and several trips are planned for the coming months including a hike this weekend.

Registration is open to all boys ages 11 and older who are interested in scouting and would like to help the troop grow. Interested adults are also needed to participate and become involved in troop planning and programs.

Holding company application made

Lowell L. Peacock, president of security Band and Trust Co., Southgate, announced this week that an application to organize a one bank holding company has been filed with the Federal Reserve System.

The application filed Sept. 21, is subject to approval by the Federal Reserve System. He also mentioned that a registration statement for the propsed organization will be submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933.

The officers of Security Bank and Trust Co. have incorporated Southerastern Michigan Holding Co., a Delaware corporation, which is qualified to do business in Michigan.

A proposal to reorganize Security Bank and Trust Co. as a subsidiary of the holding company will be submitted to the bank's shareholders for their approval under a prospectus, meeting the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933.

Two senior girls are semifinalists

Principal John P. Ford has announced that two senior students at Belleville High School have been named semifinalists in the 1971-72 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The students are Miss Carol E. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wilson of 42615 E. Huron River Dr., and Miss Cheryl A. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Davis of 11550 Wilson St., both of Belleville.

The approximately 15,000 semi-finalists appointed are among the nation's most intellectually talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 merit scholarships to be awarded in 1972.

The semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last February to more than 655,000 students in about 16,600 schools nationwide. They constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

The semifinalists are representative of the country's most intellectually able young people, according to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"From this group will come many future leaders in business, industry, and the professions," he said.

"These students bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities. The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining."

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for the merit scholarships to be awarded next spring. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their high performance on a second examination and providing information about their achievements and interests.

About 96 per cent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships which are allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the renewable four-year merit scholarships provided by some 500 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations and individuals.

Renewal funds will be invested

The Romulus City Council has approved an agreement concerning the investments of urban renewal funds on deposit with the Romulus branch of the Manufacturers National Bank.

Romulus' urban renewal program involves 575 acres of land in the Wayne-Beverly roads area. The program's initial phase, embracing 175 acres, has been started.

An acquisition program involving the purchase of the first 90 pieces of property started in September.

A federal grant in the amount of $3.5 million has been approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the first phase.

These funds have been placed on deposit at the Manufacturers National Bank. Interest accumulating on the deposit of that portion of the funds not being expended will be re-invested by the city under the agreement approved by city officials and bank officials.

County authorized to improve roads

The Wayne County Road Commission has been authorized by the Van Buren Township Board to scrape and salt township roads that are becoming "rough."

About 10 to 15 roads are currently in need of grading, scraping and calcium chloride treatment.

G. Elton Gollwitzer, township supervisor, told the board the dirt roads are rough because of continued use and need to be smoothed out and re-salted.

He told the board that the county would be asked to grade the rough roads. Included in the present re-grading and salting road program are Spencer, Robson, Edwards and Dellor roads and Lauren Court.

The Wayne County Road Commission graded and dusted some of the township roads in June. Another treatment is needed to keep the dust down, Gollwitzer said.

Cory PTA will meet on Monday

A "surprise" for the mothers will highlight Cory PTA's first meeting on Monday Oct. 4, at Cory Elementary School, 35200 Smith Rd., Romulus.

Mrs. Gloria Chandler, PTA president, announced the meeting will be to acquaint parents with their child's teacher and to offer an opportunity to tour the building. It begins at 7:30 p.m.

"We hope the whole family will come to meet the PTA officers, teachers and principal." Mrs. Chandler stated. There will be no business meeting.

Chains must keep records

Chain stores must maintain records of prices prevailing during the base period preceding the wage-price freeze, according to Kennard W. Gardiner, region 5 director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness..

Chains must maintain records for each store if each store used separate pricing policies before the freeze began. They must be available for public inspection. If keeping them at chain headquarters is denying reasonable public inspection, then the freeze is being violated. The lists must be available, but need not be posted.

There is no requirement that pricing records be kept as a list; however, the form in which they are kept must be conducive to public inspection. Any member of the public may inspect the price lists, even if he isn't in the process of purchasing the articles concerned.

For more information or to report violations, citizens should contact their nearest Internal Revenue Service Office or their County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office.

Irving Wallace leaves Van Buren planners

Irving G. Wallace, prominent Belleville resident and bank executive, has resigned from the chairmanship of the Van Buren Planning Commission.

Wallace, who is the last member of the original Van Buren Planning Commission, has been chairman for the last 10 years.

The resignation, effective last Tuesday, was due to increasing banking responsibilities, Wallace said.

Wallace is assistant cashier of the Belleville branch of the National Bank of Detroit and regional banking center administrative manager of the National Bank of Detroit. The region includes Belleville and Romulus

The Van Buren Township Board accepted Wallace's resignation with regrets and issued formal commendations for his long period of services.

Wallace, who resides at 14225 Elwell Rd., stated he enjoyed his years with the planning commission and was sorry to leave.

Recommendation made for fire truck purchases

Van Buren Trustee Joseph Hogan has recommended to the township board that two new fire engines with special equipment (aerial and rescue) be purchased by the township.

Hogan, who is also township fire commissioner, recommended the two engines be purchased from the American LaFrance Co. of Elvira, N.Y.

The total cost would be about $109,700 and delivery in one year.

The township board agreed to study the recommendation and scheduled an executive session with fire equipment firm representatives this week.

John Gonzy, chief of Van Buren Fire Department 2, complained that the township has nothing now that could get residents out of their apartments. With the new equipment recommended "we could get 25 people out in a matter of minutes" he said.

The new machines would run on diesel rather than gasoline engines and the pumps would deliver up to 1,250 gallons of water a minute, Hogan reported.

The new fire equipment would be used to fight apartment fires.

Trustee Jerry Maton suggested apartment owners should be included in sharing the cost of the new machines.

'Jessica' has no ending at all

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Any film in which a husband takes his wife into rural seclusion to recover from a nervous breakdown immediately suggests the old "Gaslight" theme, especially if it's titled "Let's Scare Jessica to Death."

So obvious does it seem that the weird doings surrounding Jessica (Zohra Lampert), her husband Duncan (Barton Heyman) and their amiable friend Woody (Kevin O'Connor) that real mystery buffs will immediately suspect that writers Norman Jonas and Ralph Rose surely couldn't be that blatant; that there must be a surprise ending coming.

So strongly in fact does a red herring seem indicated, that the orthodox trying-to-drive-the-wife-crazy ending might almost be a surprise in itself. But Jonas and Rose do indeed have a surprise in store—no ending at all.

The trio, along with a secretive girl staying at their farmhouse, Emily (Mariclare Costello), have chosen a home equipped with spooky old legend, this one about a girl who drowned on her wedding day, who may or may not be still around and may or may not be a vampire. And all the villagers are withdrawn and have scars on their necks.

These are the elements with which to do in poor old Jessica. Add a lot of spooky music, something continually whispering Jessica's name and something under the lake trying to drag Jessica in; note the fact that Emily is rather strange and bears a striking resemblance to the drowned girl and you have either:

a) a conspiracy by human beings, albeit warped ones, to drive a sane girl insane; or

b) a conspiracy by one or more dead people, possibly or possibly not aligned with one or more alive people to do Jessica in.

It would be totally unfair to reveal which of the two endings Jonas and Rose had in mind.

The director's name is John Hancock, who should hang together with Jonas and Rose and producer Charles B. Moss Jr., or assuredly they will all hand separately.

HOGAN'S GOAT - Robert Foxworth and Faye Dunaway star in the NET Playhouse production of "Hogan's Goat", on the Public Broadcasting Service "Special of the week". The award-winning drama of political intrigue will be seen at 8 p.m., next Monday on Channel 56.

'Your Own Thing' is not his thing

The Wayne State University Theatre presents "Your Own Thing," a rock musical staged in one act, by Donald Driver, based on Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," music and lyrics by Hal Hester and Danny Apolinar, directed by Robert T. Hazzard, musical direction by James Hohmeyer, technical direction by Russell Paquette, choreography by Jean Sabatine, costumes by Vic Leverett, sets by Russell Smith, lighting by Tom Bryant and Gary M. Witt, conducted by John L. Williams; presented on a bill with "Soul Stateside," a variety show created by the cast. At the Bonstelle Theatre, through Sunday, with the following cast: Terry Baker, Layne Littlepage, Elizabeth Shelle, Robert Quigley, Tim Lambert, Michael Jordan, Donald Hayes, Sharon Bruzdewicz, Anita Ensworth, Kai Lanier.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

"I was born in a trunk" is more than a show business cliche for Russell Smith, the Wayne State University Theatre designer. When you consider what Smith can pack into 12 trucks - the entire set, including costumes, lighting and props, for WSU's touring production of the rock musical "Your Own Thing" -- a compact portable obstetrics hospital would not seem beyond his fertile ingenuity.

A combined WSU Hilberry and Bonstelle troupe made another USO tour of European army installations this summer and government fiat limited them to 500 pounds of luggage. So Smith designed a canvas set and glorified it with lots of chrome to add the illusion of substance (isn't that what the auto companied do too?). Then he stretched it on frames anchored to the 12 trucks which served the dual functions of containers and stanchions.

It was so impressive that one wishes there was more of a show to go with it.

For touring purposes, the play was cut by director Robert T. Hazzard to one act. In locations too small to assemble the musical, a variety show written by the cast was presented. Segments of this variety show, "Soul Stateside," are presented with the one-act musical as two halves of a bill at the Bonstelle Theatre through this weekend.

The variety show was the better half. OK, it was hokey - full of ancient burlesque wheezes, blackouts, olios and cabaret skits, but it undoubtedly went over big with the GI audiences, even lines like: "We were so poor that my brother got married to get the free rice." Blended in was a mixture or rock, soul and Broadway tunes. Donald Hayes, a dancer and comic, was especially warmly received.

"Your Own Thing," was another matter. It is Donald Driver's adaption of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," the familiar story of twins separated by a storm and a girl posing as her brother to stir up endless confusion, adapted to a modern setting. The subplot, about the hoaxing of Malvolio by Sir Toby Belch and his friends is omitted, a pity since it is the better part of the play.

Layne Littlepage is a magnificently possessed Olivia with accents of Mae West and Terry Baker is an effectively gauche Orson, albeit demoted from duke to manager of a rock group; but Elizabeth Shelle is a somewhat bland Viola. Robert Quigley, as Sebastian, seems curiously out of place, almost an old-fashioned hoofer. Hayes, Michael Jordan and Tim Lambert score as the rock group.

The Hal Hester and Danny Apolinar score seems slick; rock music has envolved much since this score was written.

"Your Own Thing" isn't my thing.

Celebrated dancers to appear in Detroit

Two of the world's most celebrated dancers, Edward Villella and Patricia McBride of the New York City Ballet, will appear for the first time with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Sunday in the first of the Orchestra's 1971-72 series of popular-priced Kresge Concerts.

They will be featured in a pas de deux from Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake" and, as a finale, in an excerpt from the Hershy Kay ballet "Stars and Stripes," based on music by John Philip Sousa.

Pierre Hetu, associate conductor of the Detroit Symphony, will conduct, making his first appearance on the Detroit Symphony podium this season. Orchestral portions of the program will include "Donna Diana" Overture by Reznicek, "Norwegian Dances" by Grieg, "Les Preludes" by Liszt, and the "Emperor Waltz" by Johann Strauss.

The event will be given in Ford Auditorium at 3:30 p.m.

Other attractions in the 1971-72 Kresge series, all scheduled as Sunday matinees at 3:30 in Ford Auditorium, are a performance of Handel's "Messiah" with the Rackham Symphony Choir on Dec. 19; pianist Earl Wild, Sixten Ehrling conducting, on Jan. 16; Mrs. Martin Luther King in a narrator's role, Paul Freeman conducting, on Feb. 6; and the Detroit Severo Ballet Company, Hetu conducting, on April 9.

Kresge Concerts are presented in conjunction with a special grant from the Kresge Foundation and feature the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as well as special guests. Tickets are priced at $1.50, $2 and $2.50 for each concert and are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all Hudson's and Grinnell's ticket outlets.

Edward Villella is one of the superstars of the dance world. He has held the title of principal dancer with the New York City Ballet for many years and has also appeared with the Royal Danish Ballet, Royal Winnipeg Ballet, at the Brussels World's Fair, London Festival Hall, Jacob's Pillow Festival, and in many special appearances across the country.

One of the 1968 Bell Telephone hour network telecasts was devoted entirely to him, entitled "Man Who Dances — Edward Villella." He also has been featured on the Kraft Music Hall, Ed Sullivan show, Hollywood Palace, Carol Burnett and many other tv shows.

Villella is a native New Yorker, and he once stopped dancing temporarily in order to earn a degree at the New York Maritime College, where he also won a varsity letter in baseball and the campus welter-weight boxing title.

Patricia McBride was invited to join the New York City Ballet at the age of 16 and was made a soloist a year later. She became a principal dancer with the company at age 18. Her first solo role was in George Ballanchine's "Figure in the Carpet." She now commands a breadth of repertory that few young dancers can match.

When the New York City Ballet is not performing, Miss McBride makes guest appearances, generally with partner Edward Villella, with civic ballet groups and orchestras across the nation as well as on network television.

Color tours slated

Dame Nature waves her magic wand and Michigan comes alive with color in October. Many communities throughout the state annually celebrate the fall season with festivals and color tours, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Special color tour activities listed in the Council's Calendar of Travel Events include a Color Festival in Belleaire, Oct. 9 and 10; the Gladwin County Color Tour, which begins in Gladwin and tours the southwest part of the county, Oct 10; and the Charlevoix Color Cruise—a boat trip on the lake from Charlevoix to Boyne City—Oct. 10.

Festivals and fairs also highlight October events in Michigan. Among those listed in the calendar are the Fall Harvest and Creafts. Festival at the Nature Center in Kalamazoo, Oct. 9 to 11, the Red Flannel Festival at Cedar Springs, Oct. 16, and the Houghton County Agricultural Fair at Lake Linden in the upper peninsula, Oct. 21.

Antique buffs have several events to choose from including the Midwest Antiques Forum at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, Oct. 11 to 15, and an Antique and Collectors Show-Sale in Grand Rapids, Oct. 29 to 31.

More tests given in diabetes clinic

Final figures on the Diabetes Detection Drive of the Michigan Diabetes Association have been released and show an 82 per cent increase in the number of tests given in 1970 compared to the 1969 program.

According to Dr. James J. Aiuto of Grosse Point, chairman of the MDA's Diabetes Detection Committee, the blood-screening program is aimed at the high-risk segment of the population.

Of the 25,563 persons tested for diabetes in 1970, 487 were found to have diabetes, 239 were diagnosed as potentially diabetic and 42 had "low blood sugar" or hypoglycemia

"We are particularly interested," he said, "in those persons who are over 40 years of age, overweight, blood relatives of diabetics, and mothers with babies weighing more than nine pounds at birth. These are the people most likely to have diabetes and we want to find them and get them to their doctor for prompt treatment."

Dr. Aiuto estimates over 100,000 persons in Michigan have diabetes and don't know it. He said that the rapid increase in the diabetic population poses a major health problem Diabetes is the second cause of blindness in Michigan and a contributing factor in heart and kidney disease.

Last November, 48 Michigan Hospitals joined with the MDA program in its detection drive. This year, the association predicts that even more hospitals will open their doors to the public and offer free blood-screening test during national Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 14-20.

The planning commission also accepted "with deep regret" the resignation letter of William T. Patrick Jr. from the commission. Patrick recently left Detroit to become director of environmental affairs for American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York City.

The commission consists of 11 members who represent major fields of public and private community activity.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Medical science has proved heart transplants can be made to give a new life; at least for a while. Lest it be forgotten though, life AND death are interminded in every heart transplant. One person must die before another is given hope for continued or new life. It follows in the pattern that a seed must die before a plant may bloom.

With our scientific progress a plain truth must also be remembered. "It is He that hath made us and not we ourselves." Boldness, inventiveness and miraculous happenings are made possible only through A Higher Power - not through man himself. When that fact is ignored, forgotten or not acknowledged, no array of gadgetries or knowledge can restore life to that which is dead...

RESOLUTION NO. 71 - 278 The continuing escalation in the cost and deterioration in the quality of health care in the United States is of continuing concern to all Americans;

Romulus residents and their families have seen direct and adverse effects resulting from the uncontrolled cost of inflation. Romulus residents face erosion of present insurance programs and most currently do not have health care protection, but rather have "sick" insurance coverage effective only after becoming ill;

Some thirty million Americans continue to be confined to the grinding cycle of proverty and ill health, so that cause and effect are increasingly indistinguishable,

Almost all proposals to change the present unfortunate state of affairs fail to deal with the basic problem of reorganization of the health delivery system; the training of adequate personnel; doctors, specialists, nurses, hospital aides, social psychiatrists, etc.;

The Committee for National Health Insurance, with substantial support from the UAW, have developed the most comprehensive, practical and promising program for health security of all Americans; and has sought to develop a legislative program for more schools of medicine and medical care;

This program has been introduced in the 92nd Congress as Senate Bill No. 3 and House Bill Nos. 22 and 23, with board Congressional support;

All major segments of the labor movement and many whose futures are involved in the health delivery and hospital services field are now united in their support of these legislative proposals:

THEREFORE, be it resolved:

1. that the leadership of Romulus City Council affirm it's support of the Health Security Program and of legislative bills, Senate Bill No. 3 and House Bill Nos. 22 and 23, and

2. the leadership of Romulus City Council calls upon the Senators and Congressmen from the State of Michigan to act early and favorable on Health Security Legislation pending before Congress.

CITY OF ROMULUS
ORDINANCE NO. 71-56

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH RULES, REGULATIONS, AND PROCEDURES FOR INSTITUTING, CONSTRUCTING AND ACQUIRING PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT PROPERTY WITHIN THE CITY OF ROMULUS AND FOR THE PAYMENT OF SUCH IMPROVEMENTS BY THE LEVYING OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS UPON THE OWNERS OF THE PROPERTY RECEIVING THE PRIMARY BENEFIT THEREFROM.

WHEREAS, The City Charter for the City of Romulus specifies that the procedure for levying special assessments shall be ordinance adopted by the City Council.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1. Short Title: This Ordinance may be referred to as: the SPECIAL ASSESSMENT ORDINANCE.

Section 2. Whenever the City Council shall by resolution determine the necessity for the improvement of certain lands within the City of Romulus for any public use or purpose or to bring about the abatement of a public nuisance, it shall direct the City Assessor to prepare a list of all of the lots, subdivisons and parcels of real property making up the total area of property affected by such improvement. Such list shall contain the name of the owner, or other party in interst of each parcel, subdivision or lot to the best of said Assessor's knowledge.

Section 3. Upon the adoption of the resolution declaring such improvement to be a necessity, the City Engineer shall proceed to ascertain the quantities of materials necessary for the completion of such improvement and to prepare a detailed estimate of all the expenses incidental to said improvement, and shall make a report of such estimates to the City Council and the City Assessor. The City Engineer may also recommend either that the improvement be constructed by the City or by independent contractors or in part by both.

Section 4. The City Council shall establish by resolution a time and place for a public hearing to discuss and hear objections to the proposed improvement. Notice of such public hearing shall be published once in the official City newspaper at least ten days prior to the proposed hearing date and shall contain the time, place and purpose of such hearing, including the type of improvement and the proposed assessment district to be affected. The City Assessor shall, at least ten days before the date of such hearing, notify all property owners or other parties in interest within the proposed assessment district of such hearing by sending a copy of the notice by first class mail, addressed to the addresses shown upon the last City tax assessment records. The term "last City tax assessment records" shall mean the most recent assessment roll which has been reviewed by the Board of Review as supplemented by any subsequent changes in the names or addresses of the owners or parties listed thereon. The City Assessor shall, upon making such mailing, file with the City Clerk a certificate of such mailing.

Section 5. Following such public hearing, the City Council shall determine whether to proceed with the construction or acquisition of such public improvement and shall, if it determines to proceed therewith, determine whetherto construct or acquire such improvement through the appropriate City department or departments or through one or more independent contractors or through a combination thereof. The City Council shall also establish a proposed budget for such construction or acquisition.

Section 6. Following the adoption of such budget, the City Assessor shall prepare the proposed assessment roll. The City Assessor shall determine the proportionate benefits to be derived from the improvement by each of the parcels of realty to be assessed and the proportionate benefit, if any, to be derived by the City in general and shall spread the proposed budget on the assessment roll in accordance with such determinations. The assessment roll shall contain the tax item number and the name and address on the last City tax assessment records of the owner or other party in interest with respect to each parcel of realty to be assessed, the assessed value of each such parcel, the total amount to be assessed with respect to such parcel, the total amount to be borne by the City in general, and such other data or information as the City Assessor may deem necessary. The City Assessor shall then certify such proposed assessment roll and shall transmit the same to the City Council.

Section 7. Upon receipt of the certified proposed assessment roll, the City Council shall set a time and place for the hearing of objections to such proposed assessment roll and shall publish notice of such hearing in the official City newspaper. Such notice may be published as part of the minutes of a regular or special City Council Meeting. At such hearing, the City Council shall hear all objections made by or on behalf of owners or other parties in interest of realty proposed to be assessed and, if it is proposed that the City in general bear any protion of the cost of such improvement, by any other person present at such hearing. After such hearing, the City Council may modify or amend such proposed assessment roll without further public hearings; provided, however, that if such modification or amendment would assess parcels of realty for any portion of the cost of such improvement the owners or other parties of which parcels were not sent the notice specified in Section 4 hereof, the City Council shall set the time and place for an additional public hearing and shall notify such owners or other parties in interest of such hearing in the manner provided in Section 4 hereof. The City Council may then confirm and certify the proposed assessment roll, as modified or amended in an appropriate case, subject to Section 12.6 of the Charter of the City of Romulus.

Section 8. All work for public improvements performed pursuant to this ordinance shall be performed by the City or by contracts with independent contractors pursuant to Chapter XIII of the City Charter.

Section 9. In the event that it becomes necessary to change, alter or amend the plans and specifications of such public improvement, the City Council may make any necessary changes without the necessity of treating such change as a new project.

Section 10. Upon completion and acceptance of the improvement by the City Council, the department in charge of such improvement shall certify the final costs of the project to the City Assessor who shall then, if necessary, amend the assessment roll for such project to apportion costs in excess of budget or to apportion credits for budget expenses less than actual costs upon the assessment roll. The City Assessor shall give notice by one publication in the official City newspaper that the amended assessment roll is complete and shall retain the roll in his office for twelve working days for inspection.

Upon the expiration of said twelve-day period, the City Assessor shall make any necessary revisions or corrections and deliver it to the City Council not later than 90 days after referral to his office. After said roll has been presented to the City Council or returned and recorrected, the Council shall be resolution confirm the final assessment roll within 30 days after receipt from the City Assessor. Upon confirmation, the assessment roll shall constitute a lien until paid in full upon all lots, parcels or subdivisions of property listed on such assessment roll.

Section 11. Payment of the special assessment may, in the discretion of the Council, be permitted in equal annual installments under such terms and interest rates as the Council shall direct. Such installment payments shall not exceed the provisions enumerated in Chapter 12.7 of the City Charter.

Section 12. Whenever the City Council shall deem it necessary to construct and-or repair sidewalks within the City, it shall direct the Department of Public Works to furnish an estimate of the cost of such construction and-or repair. The Council shall then direct the owner or other party in interest of the property abutting and adjacent to such proposed improvement to undertake such improvement within 30 days. Such notice shall be made by sending notice to such owner or other party in interest the required improvement necessary by certified mail to the address shown on the last City tax assessment records and by posting on the premises. Such notice shall advise the owner that, in the event he shall fail to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, the City may build or reapir such sidewalks and assess the costs of improvement against the land. If such owner or other party in interest shall not have made such improvement within the time specified, the City shall cause such improvement to be made and shall collect the amount thereof in the manner provided for collection of real property taxes and such amount shall constitute a lien until paid in full upon the abutting land.

Section 13. Whenever the owners of a majority of real estate with frontage along a City street petition the City Council for the installation of boulevard lighting, the City Council may, if it deems necessary, make such improvement. Whenever the City shall install such lighting, it shall assess the costs of such improvement against the owners of the abutting property in the manner prescribed herein.

Section 14. Whenever the City Council shall authorize condemnation proceedings to provide for the necessary public improvements or for the acquisition of any recreational facilities or for any other public purpose, and, whenever the City Council in connection therewith shall by resolution determine a special assessment district to assess all or part of the damages awarded by the jury in such condemnation proceedings, and when the cost of such improvement shall have been ascertained, the City Assessor shall within 90 days deliver to the City Council his written opinion as to whether the City shall:

1. Assess all or part of the condemnation award against the owners or residents of the property contained in the assessment district; and,

2. The pro rata proportion which shall be assessed against each lot, parcel or subdivision benefitted by such improvement and proportional benefit derived therefrom

Section 15. The amounts assessed against land hereunder shall be collected in the manner provided for collection of City real property taxes and shall be subject to the collection fees and interest provisions applicable to City real property taxes.

Section 16. No person, corporation, association or governmental unit nor the real estate owned by such person, corporation, association, or governmental unit and affected by this ordinance shall be granted an exemption from its provisions unless otherwise granted such by state or federal law.

Section 17. This ordinance shall become effective thirty days after publication in the official Romulus newspaper.

I, LEONARD J. FOLMAR, Clerk of the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an Ordinance adopted by the City Council at a regular meeting held in the Romulus City Council Chambers on the 28th day of September, 1971.

Environmental thrust is begun

A nationwide environmental campaign designed to lend increased support to thousands of community groups and volunteer leaders was launched recently by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee, stated that the Department of Agriculture believes the people of America can refit their thinking and actions to solve the problems of the environment. The task ahead is great-to restore America's abundant natural assets, to reverse the trends of deterioration and to improve the physical settings in which we live, work and relax.

Smith said that a leaflet outlining the environmental thrust campaign and a comprehensive handbook listing 22 suggested environmental projects have been prepared by USDA officials. This information is being sent to State and County ASCS Offices.

Suggested projects include: Safe Drinking Water, Sanitary Landfills, Trash and Junk Removal, Sewage Disposal for Farm Home and Rural Community, Animal Waste Disposal, Land Use Planning, Disposal of Pesticide Wastes and Containers, Noise Reduction, Controlling Aquatic Weeds, and Controlling Poisonous Plants.

State education board adopts common goals

The State Board of Education recently took the most for reaching action ever undertaken by adopting contemporary and comprehensive common educational goals for Michigan that provide "Cures for the Crises" in our schools and our society.

Of particular significance, in view of today's monetary crisis, is that the fundamental educational goals don't cost any more money, according to James F. O'Neil, member of the State Board of Education.

The first goal is the most simplistic, fundamental and crucial in developing "Cures for the Crises" in our schools and society — citizenship and morality. It calls for the development of youth as citizens who have self respect, respect for others and respect for the law.

opportunity — calls for an educational system and environment which advances the principles of democracy by recognizing the worth of every individual and by respecting each person's right to equal educational opportunity. This goal recognizes that the door to equal educational opportunity is the door to all other opportunity.

It calls for equality in the allocation of educational funds

This goal calls for the development of nature and responsible citizens with a sense of social awareness and moral and ethical values.

The second goal democracy and equal and greater parental participation in the education and development of their youth.

The third goal — student learning — calls for each individual to acquire a positive attitude toward school in order that he or she may achieve optimum personal growth, progress in a worthwhile and rewarding manner and render valuable service to society.

The goals were initiatively developed by a Citizens Advisory Committee which included students and parents as well as educators. The board received, reviewed and revised the committee's recommendations. Extensive public meetings were then held throughout Michigan to provide an opportunity for everyone to participate in the development of the new educational goals.

Additional revisions were made to the goals as a result of these public meetings. The goals have now been formally adopted by the State Board of Education and are being presented to the schools and society.

Sewer assessment hearing scheduled

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has initiated another sanitary sewer improvement program and scheduled a public hearing on setting a special assessment district for the program.

That township board, acting on its own initiative and without petition, has determined to make the sanitary sewer and special assessment improvement at its Sept. 28 board meeting. The program involves 13 locations in the township.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd. for the purpose of hearing any objections to the improvement program and special assessment district.

It was reported that if 20 per cent of property owners of record in the special assessment district file written objections then the improvement proposed will not be made without petitions being filed.

The locations involved in the proposed sanitary sewer improvement program are listed elsewhere in this issue.

Advisory council meets tomorrow

The Advisory Council for the Family and Neighborhood Services will meet tomorrow (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. at the agency office, 37604 Goddard Rd., Romulus.

The council was formed this fall to increase understanding of community needs, obtain community participation in evaluating services, involve community residents in setting priorities for programs and to determine ways of increasing effectiveness of services.

It is hoped that the council will assist the agency in tuning in to the needs of the community and in meeting those needs, said Alton M. Shelly, area supervisor.

A discussion at the council's August meeting centered on problems faced by the community in developing aggressive city planning to provide a better tax base and more jobs.

Members also voiced interest in a greatly expanded co-op program that would prepare youth for "practical jobs."

Two men elected to board

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners have elected two members, one an incumbent, to the four-member County Board of Canvassers.

Incumbent Morris Hood, a UAW international representative, was re-elected along with Earl Kennedy, who operates a travel agency and real estate office in Detroit.

Hood, a democrat, and Kennedy, a republican, were elected for four-year terms during a formal meeting of the commissioners on Sept. 23.

Hood has been a member of the Board of Canvassers since 1967, and Kennedy replaces Emmet E. Tracy Jr., also elected in 1967.

Governing state regulations require that the Board of Canvassers consist of two republicans and two democrats. Nominees are submitted by committee chairmen of the two major political parties, a requirement also imposed by state statute.

The Board of Canvassers is charged with the certification of election results within Wayne County. They receive $25 per diem, and $50 per diem for recounts.

Church given permit

The Faith United Methodist Church, located at 6071 Gilmore Rd., Denton, has been granted a permit for the demolition of a house on church permises by the Belleville Township Board.

Permit fees of $25 and a $1,000 performance bond fee were waived by the board.

The church plans to construct a parking lot, it was stated.

School burglary being investigated

A burglary at the auto shop at the Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd. which auto testing equipment valued at more than $3,000 was stolen is under investigation by the road division detectives of the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

Entry into the auto shop was made by forcing a rear window open and cutting off the burglar alarm.

OLD SCHOOL SITE TO BE SOLD — The two-room Texas Elementary School, located at Harrison and Goddard Roads, Romulus, has been ordered sold by the Romulus Board of Education. The school, closed for about three years, has been used for storage purposes. Renovation and repairs of the former school building to meet the requirements of the state fire marshal would be prohibitive cost-wise, schoool officials reported.

PTA council to study reading improvement

A study of needs for elementary reading improvement and increased communications between school personnel and the community will be tasks undertaken by the Romulus Area PTA Council during the coming year.

Both projects were approved at the regular monthly meeting held Tuesday, Sept. 28, at Gordonier Elementary School, Romulus.

In further action, it was decided a letter be directed to the Romulus Board of Education recommending that all lunch and playground supervisors be encouraged to take first aid training classes through the continuing education evening programs. It was pointed out that the classes are free.

With all units represented except Harrison Elementary School, the delegates approved a council budget of $190. Installation banquet plans were discussed.

Joel B. Carr, high school principal, explained new policies, rules, regulations and plans for a school beautification program designed to help generate pride among the stuudents.

William Smith, community-school director, described the continuing education program of adult classes. Included are Wayne County Community College, vocational-occupational, adult high school completion, adult basic education, enrichment and recreation courses.

Cast is selected for high school production

Casting for "The Mouse That Roared", the fall production of the Romulus High School Theatre Arts Club, has been completed, said David Ferdon, director.

The production will be staged at the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium on Nov. 19-20.

Heading the cast are experienced performers Andrea Payne, Bill Crook and Gary Meyers, who will play the "Privy Council" of Grand Fenwick, home of the "Mouse." Joe Bledsoe, a new member of the Theatre Arts group, also will play a major role.

The cast includes important supporting roles played by Adell Austin, a physicist; Pike Walker, the president; Mike Humphrey, secretary of state; Bill Bigham, the security officer.

Character actors are, according to Ferdon, vital to a successful production. They spend many hours in rehearsal and double in costuming, makeup, promotion, sound, publicity, lighting, prompting and myriad other tasks.

District judge explains action

District Court Judge Gerald A. McNally of the 33rd District Court, Trenton, has defended his action in handling the suit filed against the McLouth Steel Co.

Judge McNally's position was disclosed in a letter sent to Dale J. Uranis, president of the Huron Valley Conservation Association of Belleville.

Judge McNally recommended that all the facts should be reviewed, particularly those upon which his decision was made, before his integrity is so severely judged.

The Judge explained that municipal court does not have the jurisdiction to levy a fine above $500 in criminal matters and $1,500 in civil matters.

The district courts have been afforded the same jurisdiction in criminal court and an increase of $3,000 in civil.

Judge McNally stated that McLouth Steel appeared before the Wayne County Circuit Court in January, 1971. At that time McLouth was ordered to expend more than $330,000 to control the then existing condition. Since the method has been put into operation no violations have been reported.

Additionally, McNally said, the steel company has spent $20 million in the last 15 years on pollution control. In the last two years, according to Judge McNally, McLouth has spent more on pollution abatement than they have earned in profits.

He reported that the state of Michigan settled out of court in a civil matter concerning this same violation for $1,000. The state contended that this was all the damage done.

Judge McNally thanked the Huron Vally Conservation Association for its interest in the matter and did recommend that such citizen groups actively participate in insisting that companies take steps in pollution abatement.

The judge summed up his position by saying that if the Wayne County prosecutor, the Natural Resources Commission or the attorney general of the state of Michigan deemed a more substantial fine necessary, action should have been brought before a court of higher jurisdiction.

Romulus seeking proposals

The City of Romulus is seeking proposals for the construction of two structures in the city.

Sealed proposals are being requested for a conventional masonry structure, 96 feet long by 36 feet deep with a height of 16 feet and an Inland Ryerson Steel structure 140 feet long by 36 feet deep with a height of 16 feet.

Proposals must be submitted on forms furnished by the city, which can be obtained at the clerk's office, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

The deadline for submitting proposals is 10 a.m. Nov. 2, Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk, reported.

Firms receive orders

Manufactures in Michigan received orders financed by the Agency for International Development (AID) totaling $26,978,443 during the six months ending June 30, 1971.

Among the firms which received orders were the Kelsey Hayes Co. and Kerr Manufacturing Co., both of Romulus.

Kelsey Hayes received $5,700 in orders and Kerr Manufacturing Co. received $2,729.

AID, which conducts U.S. economic assistance programs overseas, reported the commodities purchased from companies participating in the foreign aid program were shipped to developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Children's group meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Downriver Association for retarded children (DRARC) will be held at the Garfield School, 340 Superior Blvd., Wyandotte, at 8 p.m. Oct. 11.

Edwin Klute, co-ordinator of the Marketing Department of the Detroit Edison Co., will show a film entitled "Beyond The 21st Century."

Hospitality Chairman for the evening will be Wilhelmina Hazzard and Ruby Chenevare. Refreshment committee has Margary Barrett, Charlotte Russell, Jessie Facciani and Rosaline Lussier preparing the snacks after the meeting.

Belleville student is in film

A Belleville student was among the 18 area residents who appeared in "Flame in the Wind" a new full-length, color, Christian film produced by Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. and presented recently on the campus.

She is Miss Joyce Juanita Perdue, daughter or Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Perdue of 42015 Expressway, Belleville.

A gripping saga in the splendor of the 16th century Spain and the terror of the Spanish Inquisition, "Flame in the Wind" is the story of a student desperately searching for truth amid the turbulent, chaotic era.

Tariff high

SYDNEY (AP) — Allan Fraser asked the Australian Customs Department the tariff on uniforms imported from Scotland for a highland band.

REDISCOVERS OLD LUNCH BUCKET — Mrs. Dorothy Weekly, 24, of 35789 Smith St., Romulus, a teacher at the Harrison Elementary School, Romulus, looks over a lunch bucket she used while attending the Beverly Elementary School 13 years ago. The lunch pail was rediscovered when one of her first grade pupils brought the lunch bucket to school to comply with a rule that each pupil must have a sturdy lunch pail.

Easter Seal Center needs area volunteers

Anyone who is interested in serving the handicapped can find a wide range of volunteer opportunities at the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt Road and Michigan Avenue in Inkster.

Job descriptions for volunteers range from those requiring skills such as typing or crafts, through driving, leading games or music, to simple posting, collating, mail preparation or serving refreshments and cleaning up after club meetings.

Uunderlying all of these jobs is simple friendliness in a center designed especially for handicapped people to ensure their being able to do as much as possible without constant help say society officials.

The daily craft classes, the year-round clubs for handicapped teens and adults as well as the summer Day Camp for crippled children are financed from contributions received as a result of the distribution of Easter Seals at Easter time with related special events and the fall membership drive.

Year round contributions come also from individuals and groups usually for special purposes. Fund-raising efforts call for volunteers with clerical skills to aid the small staff.

Other volunteers with craft or home-making interest find equally rewarding roles as assistants in daytime classes or evening club meetings. There is a continuing need for drivers to transport handicapped individuals to Center Activities, which provides an opportunity for the development of more personal relationships.

Additional information may be secured by calling the center at PA 2-3055.

Super Handyman

Put a spout on that bag

By AL CARRELL

Dear Super:

After opening a bag of a dry ingredient such as fertilizer, cement, or the like, pouring is not always an exact science. If you don't watch out, you can dump too much out. If it's a bag I'll be pouring from often, I install a spout in it. I use a plastic bleach bottle, with the bottom cut out, as the spout. With a burlap bag, I sew the bag back around the spout. If it's a paper sack, I use tape to close it back around the spout. It is super easy to pour as well as to stop.

G.I.L.

Dear Al:

Did you ever lean your card table against the wall in the closet, and then as you walk away hear it slide away from the wall with a loud crash? By tacking a strip of molding a few inches from the wall, the table bottom edge can't slide past this. The top of the table leans against the wall.

P.C.

A super hint- Odd-shaped ceramic tiles needed to fit around pipes and fixtures can easily be cut with a jigsaw. You'll get better results if you cover the face of the tile with masking tape before you begin the surgery. It gives you a much better surface to mark on, and you'll get smoother edges and without the risk of scratching the surface. Try it. You'll like it!

Dear Al:

Here's one for the husband whose wife is bugging him to use his weekend to fix the leaky faucet so she can sleep at night. Tie a string to the faucet. Be sure it's long enough to reach the sink. Then adjust it so the drip comes out on the string. The water will follow the string silently down to the sink with no dripping noise! Both husband and wife will be able to sleep, and you can fix the drip after football season.

Quick Answers for Harried Handymen: To W.W. McB.- Since you only have this TV

Dear Al:

Occasionally, you have handy hints for outdoorsmen. I'd like to pass this one along for fishermen. As I leave on a fishing trip, I wrap my cigarettes and a book of matches in a piece of aluminum foil. This protects matches and smokes from moisture, so when I get ready to light up after landing one of the "big babies," I don't have waterlogged goods. A.B.

Also a good idea if you have a handyman chore that will cause you to perspire enough to soak your smoking material.

A super hint - If you ever have a shop project that calls for rounded corners, chances are you won't have a template with which to draw the cutting line for the curves. Don't despair. Your wife has a template just the right size in her kitchen. With all the different sized pans in the cupboard, you'll be hard pressed not to locate one that is the proper size.

Al Carrell welcomes all mail, especially tips from fellow Handymen which he can pass on to readers as space permits.

A partial listing of the persons whose lives will be affected in 1972 by the 164 agencies of the United Foundation.

Affect you? Ridiculous! You never asked for help in your life. You make a good enough living. You're happily married. Your children are well adjusted. How can a UF agency even touch your life . . . let alone affect it?

Like this: The Methadone Clinic weans a drug addict from his $100-a-day habit. And he no longer burglarizes homes in your neighborhood.

Like this: A hospital patient is given an early release because a Visiting Nurse is committed to attend him at home. The hospital calls to tell you a bed is now available for your mother.

And like this: Directly or indirectly, what happens to the over 1¼ million human beings who will be counseled, treated, defended, entertained, adopted, restored, sheltered, educated, fed, reconciled, encouraged, scolded and loved through the services of the 164 Torch Drive agencies will have an affect on your life and the lives of your family.

But, none of these agencies can operate without your money.

Give Generously.

For a better life for yourself and the 4 million of us who live in Metropolitan Detroit.

Let's help each other even more. We're all we've got

Reason that snappy artist Paul Cezanne painted more still lifes of pears than of apples is because he liked apples better. That's right. Every time he bought a sack of apples and pears, he arranged same in a bowl, promptly ate the apples, then painted what was left.

That veteran movie actor of yesteryear Joel McCrea? - what, you've never heard of Joel McCrea? - got his start in the movies, teaching Rudolph Valentino - what, you've never heard of Rudolph Valentino? - how to ride a horse - come on, young fellow, you've heard of a horse!

How the chicken experts found this out I don't know, but they insist the hen is constantly tricked by her vision of food. Always, the kernel of corn or whatever is only half the size she thinks it is.

If you just can't stand to touch pins, needles, knives, scissors, anything sharp, what you suffer from is belonephobia..."Any man who wears a brown suit is a cad," contended Sir Winston Churchill, solemnly... Studies at the University of Southern California show a preponderance of the servicemen who undergo courts martial are tatooed.

No gambling man who wants to quit smoking should overlook this technique. Take a deck of cards. Write a daily cigarette quota on the face of each. On a deuce maybe six cigarettes. On a jack possibly no cigarettes before lunch. On an ace say no limit. Leave one joker in the deck. Shuffle well every morning, and draw a card, and abide by the instructions thereon. But when and if you drew the joker, that's it, you're through. A London doctor contends this method breaks down all your mental hangups about smoking. He claims you'll be absolutely ready to give it up by the time you draw the joker. Fascinating, if factual.

Customer Service: Q. "Can you pop popcorn in a microwave oven?" A. Sir, popcorn was the first comestible ever cooked in one of those fancy devices. Just 21 years ago, one Dr. Percy Spencer put a paper bag containing uncooked corn kernels in his laboratory radar machine. Snap, crackle, pop, and the microwave oven was here.

Abandoned children: Say the father takes off, and the mother is just left there with two youngsters, a son and a daughter. Question arises which of the two, the boy or the girl, is apt to be hurt the worst. No doubt about it, the boy. Daughters more readily switch loyalties. To uncles, cousins, boyfriends. But sons, more easily confused, just get angry. And stay that way, oftentimes. Or such was the judgment of Per Olav Teller of the Institute of Social Research in Oslo.

Rapid reply: No, sir! contrary to popular belief, Pennsylvania was not, definitely not named to honor its founder William Penn.

General tendencies: Take no chances whatever with your financial security and refrain from any arguments with others about money or possessions. Analyze just where you stand and then think out ways to refrain from any risky ventures.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Analyze your holdings accurately and know how best to invest in the future, but make sure you do not spend unwisely. Advisor is apt to be wrong today, so use own judgment. A kind word to mate in p.m. does work wonders now.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Taking chances could prove costly so use more than ordinary care today and spend time improving appearance. Forget that social affair in p.m. Avoid some serious argument thereby.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You have to spend very carefully now if you are to keep above water, so do just that. Helping others with their problems is wise also. Show you are a humanitarian and that you appreciate your fellow man.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) A good friend is in a rather strange mood, so use tact for you could lose a valuable ally if you show temper. Not a good day to repay any social responsibility. Do your work well.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are under pressure but if you act hastily, you get into further difficulty, so take it easy and be objective. Use tact with others instead of making curt remarks. Find solace with mate in p.m.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you change your attitude and do something thoughtful, you can make an excellent impression on some new contact today. Your hunches are not good, so forget them. Stop acting in such an imperious manner.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Keep promises you have made, especially regarding payments you have promised others — at least pay part if you cannot pay all. Don't expect mate to go along with your ideas in p.m. Do not be forceful.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to sever connections with an associate but this would only be regretted later on, so get busy and do the work required of you. Maintain finest ideals and you win out over others. Stand firm.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are not in the mood to get work done, but by changing your attitude you accomplish much and reap benefits. A co-worker is not in a particularly good mood. Soothe ruffled feathers.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Even though you do not feel too well yourself, do your utmost to cheer others and your own spirits perk up. Do not indulge in any expensive pleasure you would regret later. Avoid one who is not a true friend.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Do nothing to stir up the anger of those who dwell beneath your roof, since the situation there is apt to be tense. Any points of difference should be smoothed out diplomatically. Entertain at home in p.m.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Much caution must be exercised now while driving, walking, etc., so you avoid trouble. Good associates expect loyalty from you, so be sure to show it. Take it easy at home tonight.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those young people who wants to put money and possessions ahead of everything else, so give the fine religious training early which will teach your child to put ideals first; then there can be real abundance during the lifetime. Teach early also to come to the right decision without loss of time, or your youngster could miss the bus by taking too long to dress, so to speak. Sports are good early in life.

OFF AND RUNNING — Quarterback Virgil Smith (12) breaks loose and scampered 70-yards in the second quarter to give Romulus the go-ahead touchdown in Friday's 18-6 victory over Gilbralter Carlson. The junior signal-caller also picked up a total of 139 of his team's 290 yards on the ground. Coach George Pratt's Eagles will shoot for their third win of the season at Hamtramck on Friday.

Romulus cools Carlson

With the temperatures climbing into the mid-eighties, Romulus managed to cool a previously undefeated Gibralter Carlson 18-6 before a home crowd Friday afternoon.

"It was really hot out there," remarked Romulus head Coach George Pratt, who was forced to sweat through a close 6-all first half before his Eagles pulled out their second victory in three starts. "We're happy with the win. I can spot a great deal of improvement in this team over the span of a couple of weeks."

Romulus will also have a chance to crack another streak on Friday when Hamtramack plays hosts to the Eagles. The Colts have won two straight and will be seeking No. 3 at the expense of their former league rivals.

Both teams are presently playing an independent schedule.

John Arrington got Romulus on the scoreboard after defensive tackle Paul Robackiewicz recovered a Carlson fumble early in the first quarter at the Carlson 30. A pass from quarterback Virgil Smith to tight end Ken McMann which covered 24 yards set up Arrington's four-yards off-tackle TD lunge.

Kevin Christenson, who was given the opportunity to convert all three point afters, missed his initial try when Carlson blocked his attempt. His two other shots went wide of the goal posts.

Carlson, the undefeated leader of the Huron Conference, answered with a second quarter tally by Gary Hart who picked off a Smith aerial and ran it back 60-yards for the tying touchdown.

Midway in the third quarter Romulus broke the deadlock when Jerry McWhorter shook off a couple of Carlson tacklers, received an excellent block from Tom Nault and raced 50-yards for the Eagles' go-ahead score. Then, with less than three minutes to play, Smith pulled off a quarterback sneak and sprinted 70-yards for an insurance TD.

Romulus got possession of the ball for that final score when linebacker Gary King pounced on an errant ball.

The Eagles had a couple of other good scoring opportunities in the third quarter, but they didn't materialize.

Smith, along with that 70-yards TD sprint, accumulated a total of 139 yards for nine rushes and also completed two of four for 39 yards. Smith's favorite receiver, McMann had both receptions and also stood out on defense where he accounted for four tackles, five assists and two interceptions.

McWhorter and Arrington also were among the leading ground-gainers as McWhorter picked up 65 of the 290 total rushing yardage and Arrington had 46 for 11 rushes.

"Our defense did an excellent job on them," said Pratt, "We threw them back for 108 yards and this has to be our finest performance.

Also among the defensive leaders were Darryl Gooden and Tim Miank who cut down six ball-carriers each, while Marvin Williams tackled eight and got credit for four assitss.

Statistically, Romulus had six first down to Carlson's four while the Eagles piled up a total of 329 yards to their rivals' 120. Both teams fumbled twice while the Eagles were penalized 65 yards as compared to 80.

ON THE GO — Flanked by teammate Rudy Williams (82), Romulus tight end Ken McMann (18) bolts into Carlson territory after his second reception. McMann snared two passes worth 39 yards and also played an outstanding game on defense as the Eagles chalked up a 18-6 victory over the undefeated Huron Conference leaders.

Huron High leaps out of the fire and into the football frying pan Friday night when Coach Lee Smeltzer's Chiefs take on Tecumseh for their fourth conference game.

After giving Monroe Catholic Central a scare last week, losing a close 12-6 decision to the fourth ranked Class B state power, Huron has to contend with a Tecumseh aggregation which some consider as fine a team — if not better — than Monroe.

"They've lost only to Monroe," said Smeltzer about his Friday night opponent. "But they have a fine team and we will have our hands full."

Smeltzer also had praise for his team for an outstanding effort against Monroe. It was a hard-hitting football game and except for a couple of mistakes, we could have easily reversed the decision," he said.

A penalty late in the fourth quarter turned the tide against the Chiefs who had knotted the score in the third quarter on a spectacular 88-yard kickoff return by tailback Dave Durham.

Huron's Tim Hinojosa failed to give the Chiefs the point after which would have pulled his team ahead.

With 2:59 remaining, Monroe broke the deadlock when Sam Gutierrez climaxed an 81-yard drive and bolted into the end zone from the seven.

Catholic Central took the lead in the opening period when Dave Sandy raced over the goal line from three-yards out.

Huron had a couple of serious threats which didn't materialize into touchdowns for them. In the opening period a poor Monroe snap from center gave the Chiefs the ball on their visitors' 24-yard line, but they didn't punch it in. Then, in the second quarter they drove from their own 41 to CC's 14 where Hinojosa attempted a field goal that fell short.

A fumble in the third stanza at the 18-yard line also squelched another Huron TD threat.

Dan Clark and Wayne Kiser led the Huron offensive machine which piled up a total of 151 yards on the ground and 13 first downs. Kiser picked up 39 yards in nine rushes and Clark carved out 58 for 10 carries.

Clark teamed up with linebackers Hinojosa and middle guard Frank Cameron to clog Monroe's offense. And

Board wants to take over MHSAA

By Dann Barkume

There is a rumor going around that the Michigan State Board of Education is considering taking over the control of athletic programs away from the Michigan High School Athletic Association. Such a switch would include all prep sports activities. Though the transfer is only in the talking stages right now, a lot has already been said.

The Association of Secondary School Principals has gone on record as being opposed to such a move. Willard Fenesch, president of the secondary principals association puts it this way "If adopted as presently proposed, these actions would further erode control of education at the local level."

We would like to go on record as also being opposed to such a move. The MHSAA has done an outstanding job over the years controlling the athletic programs in high schools, and we really can't see any reason for stopping them now.

Money is tight right now, and educational experts are looking for ways to cut corners. They feel that by giving the state board of education all control over athletic programs, they would eliminate another department.

All that is true.

But there is a catch. By eliminating the MHSAA altogether, the quality of the sports programs would also be curtailed greatly. Even though athletic budgets are being cut due to tight money situations in almost every school district in the state; the athletic programs are still considered as being important in high schools almost without exception. Athletic programs are suffering now, and to switch the controlling board would jeopardise the programs even more.

The MHSAA acts as the controlling body over all sanctioned high school athletic contests in the state of Michigan, and also acts as its own police agency. Rulings on eligibility and rules infractions are set down, and judged by the association. The MHSAA can devote itself full time to athletic control because it doesn't have any other duties. The state board of education, on the other hand, is responsible for the curriculum and operation in all public schools in the state, and adding the control of the athletic programs would put yet another area under their jurisdiction.

Athletics has a definite place in high school operation. It is a good morale booster, and promotes sportsmanship and competition between different schools. Prep athletics has come under fire lately, and a few incidents involving schools taking part in tournaments and "emotional games" has given a bad name to athletics in general. It's unfortunate, but also true, and the MHSAA has been working to try and find ways to improve the conduct of players as well as spectators as sporting events.

What would the state board of education do if it was confronted with such a problem. One thing is obvious, they wouldn't be able to spend the time that the MHSAA has spent in researching the problems, and coming up with a solution without a complete review of the facts is not only impossible. it's unfair.

Cutting figures out of budgets can get a little bit out of hand at times, and athletics has suffered its share of price whacking in the last several months. The programs shouldn't be cut out altogether, according to the majority of educational experts and administrators, and things would be left alone as far as we are concerned.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association has done an outstanding job in controlling and supervising athletic competition in Michigan High schools, and they should be allowed to continue with their endeavors. Athletics is becoming more sophisticated each year, and the governing body should be able to concentrate fully on the problems of supervising such programs.

If you feel that athletic programs are no longer necessary, look at the enthusiasm generated at a high school football game. High school athletics and its purpose need not be debated, it has been proven to be necessary.

But control of athletics by the state board of education would delay the purpose of such control and athletic programs in individual high schools would suffer. The board of education has too many other things to worry about, and the MHSAA is doing too good of a job to have sports regulation taken from their hands.

It was just one of those days — better still — one of those games, when everything went right for the opposition while, you sweated it out to try to salvage the remains.

Like, with the score 41-8 against Belleville last Friday, Edsel Ford kicker Tom Miller tried for the extra point and the ball struck the cross bar and flipped over for the extra point.

Then, with the Tigers trailing 21-8 early in the third quarter, Coach Keith Emerson's boys march down to the T-Birds' 10-yard line where they fumbled the ball over to their hosts.

"The heat killed us," commented Emerson, "but we quickened our downfall because of our ineptness to stop their passing game."

Emerson said the fumble on the 10-yard line changed the game around and made what he felt could have been a comeback into the rout. He also forgot to mention that his key man in the secondary, Tony Ogletree, was sidelined because of a knee injury.

Also out because of injuries were left end Tom Griffith and halfback Charles Boddie.

Edwel jumped out in front by two touchdowns in the first quarter when quarterback Mike Booth hooked up with Ralph Plummer on a 13-yard scoring pass play. Then, Ted Chase kicked his first of five extra points.

SKULL SESSION — Romulus line Coach Bill Hardy barks out some orders to defensive tackle Henry Reid before sending him into action against Carlson Friday. Romulus managed to snap Carlson's two-game winning streak, emerging on top of an 18-6 decision.

Cougars topple Westland

The Cougars, Belleville's Little League Football representative pulled two out of three games away from the Westland Rockets over the weekend as the junior varsity and varsity squads kept their current unbeaten strings alive.

The freshmen battled to a 6-6 tie with their Westland counterparts, bringing their overall season record to one win, two losses and a tie. The junior varsity kept its unblemished record going, raising their season mark to four wins against no losses with a convincing 26-6 swamping of the Rockets and the varsity unit made short work of their hosts, downing them by a score of 32-14.

Edsel rips Belleville

Later in that quarter, Booth scampered 13-yards into the end zone to make it 14-0.

Before the end of the half, Booth also had teamed with the sophomore rightend, Plummer, for a 45-yard TD aerial and the hosts had a 21-0 edge at intermission.

However, Belleville's Mike Dansard got the Tigers going when he picked off a Booth pass and raced it back 60-yards for a touchdown. Then, quarterback Mike Garland sneaked in for the two-point conversion to cut the Edsel lead 21-8.

After an exchange of downs, Belleville put together a drive to the T-Bird 10-yard line where they handed the ball over via a fumble.

Edsel Ford retaliated with another TD pass, this time Booth picked out left and Mark Shookanian and that play covered 12 yards. The T-Birds rounded out the scoring with a 36-yard TD from backup quarterback Ralph Owen who turned an option play into a touchdown. Fullback Tom Miller plunged four yards late in the last quarter for the final tally.

Stastically, Edsel Ford picked up 14 first downs to Belleville's 10 and used 60 plays to pile up 239 yards as compared to 103 for the Tigers. The victors passed 15 times and hit their targets nine of those times for 164, having one interception, while Garland realized eight of 22 aerials for 101 yards. Two of his passes were lost to the enemy.

Belleville will face a once-defeated Plymouth aggregation at home Friday and if the Tigers don't want to plummet into the depth of the league, they'll have to oust the Rocks from fourth place, a berth both presently share.

"Plymouth is a good football team," said Emerson, "and if we play football we have a chance to win."

Junior Jesse Lakes' 1296 yards gained rushing in 1970 set a new CMU record, and broke his own record set in 1969.

CONFRONTATION — Awaiting the snap from center, Romulus' defensive unit prepares to rush Carlson in Friday's duel that ended with a Romulus victory. Coach George Pratt lauded his defensive unit for its strong performance against the undefeated Huron Conference leaders which was handed its first non-league setback of the season. Romulus will take a 2-1 record into Friday afternoon's game against Hamtramck which also has a two-game winning streak.

Breaz gets Tartars off to winning start

When its time to get Wayne State's Tartars going offensively, Coach Vern Gale turns to senior George Breaz at fullback.

That's the way its been time and again since late in the 1969 season for the one-time Huron High School grid standout.

Breaz, standing 6 foot 2, and up to 215 pounds this season, is a WSU regular at linebacker in the team's 5-2 "Monster" defense. He was one of WSU's tackling leaders in the opening 34-6 romp over Ferris State, but noted it wasn't one of his best games because the Ferris guards were coming at his low in a crab-blocking technique and hampering his mobility.

Still, the New Boston resident was given seven tackles and four assists by the press box crew and that's good for 18 tackling points in the WSU grading system (two points for a tackle and one for an assist).

But, when the Tartars lagged offensively and clung to a 7-6 lead in the third quarter, starting fullback Walt Espy went out two plays into a drive with a pulled muscle and Breaz came He carried on four of the next eight plays, churned 24 yards and scored on a five yard blast that could have been much longer if needed. The TD boosted the Tartars into a 14-6 lead and the WSU offense was underway.

Those 24 yards were the extent of Breaz' offensive contribution, but Gale noted, "The Chif sure got us going there. He's quite a leader and the more than 40 minutes he played we sure needed."

In the last two years, Breaz has rushed for 372 yards with 172 coming in 1970 on 45 carries for a 3.8 yard average and four touchdowns. In 1969, Breaz lugged the ball 29 times for 200 yards and a crisp 6.9 yard average and three touchdowns.

All of Breaz' offensive heroics have come when the Tartars were in need of assistance. The senior power runner is best at straight-ahead bursts, but has also recorded a 41 yard touchdown romp on a trap play that came in 1969.

His worth is also measured in other ways. His harassment of the Ferris center forced a bad snap of 29 yards that gave WSU the ball at the Bulldog 30 yard line. Two plays later, WSU was in the end zone for a 20-6 bulge going into the fourth quarter.

Coach Gale is counting heavily on his co-captain to continue his heroics as the Tartars face a tough grid schedule in 1971.

Huron, 12-6

defensive tackle Jim Fitz provided the locals with several key tackles.

Quarterback Mario Gracia attempted 12 passes and hit on four for 60 yards while Monroe scored on six of their 16 pass attempts for 103 yards, but Kiser picked off one of those in the second quarter when CC had driven to the Chiefs' seven. Also stealing an aerial was Cameron who hauled in a deflected pass to stop another threat.

Central Michigan's Chippewas have won all three of the games that they have played on artificial turf. They have two games scheduled on artificial turf in 1971, one at Illinois State and the other at Indiana State.

Area bowlers get into shape fast

The Romulus Teacher's League, operating out of Wayne Bowl, didn't see any 200 games bowled in their last outing, but Jordan Washington came closest with a 196 count to take high game individual honors for the men.

Ella Ann Washington looked impressive as she took the women's individual high game with a whopping 182.

Richard Wizgird's 532 was good for the men's individual high series while Renee Mendoza turned in a 474 to take top honors for the women.

Washington's team also came home with the high team game, turning in a 517 count while the Brown team countered with a 1378 series to take the top team honors in that department.

Eddie Schoemberg of D.J. Ski Shop rolled her first 500 series as she was credited with a 514 at the last meeting of the Westlander's League at Westland Bowl. Eddie also received the honors for the high individual game with a 195 count and Midge Pashkot's 525 was tops in the individual series department.

Team No. 12 rolled a 744 to take high game honors and Pierce Insurance had a good day as their 2090 was the best in the high team series competition.

D.J. Ski Shop moved into first place by a half a point, edging out Pierce Insurance, Team No. 16 and Team No. 4, all of which are a half a point out.

Ford urges passage of health insurance

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman William D. Ford (D-Michigan) has called for quick action on proposals for National Health Insurance, which are to be taken up next week by the House Ways and Means Committee.

In a letter to Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills, Congressman Ford declared that "skyrocketing costs and declining health standards have brought our national to the brink of catastrophe." He told Mills, "I cannot emphasize too strongly my extreme sense of urgency regarding the need for prompt action."

Congressman Ford commended Mills for scheduling national health insurance as the committee's next major order of business.

The Michigan Democrat is one of the co-sponsors of the Health Security Act of 1971, which is the most comprehensive of several proposals now pending before Congress.

"The Health Security Act would establish a health-care system which would bring needed medical and hospital services within the financial reach of every American," Congressman Ford said in his letter to Chairman Mills. Chief sponsors of the Act are Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Michigan Congresswoman Martha Griffiths.

"This proposal would provide for virtually complete health-care insurance, financed equally by general government revenues and by a payroll tax similar to that which finances Social Security," Ford explained.

Employes would pay one per cent of wages and other income up to a total of $15,000. This does not represent a new tax, since workers now pay almost that amount toward the cost of Medicare.

The employer's contribution would be 3.5 per cent, which is about what many employers now pay for largely inadequate private health insurance plans for their workers. Some firms do pay more than this; some pay considerably less, and some pay nothing at all.

Self-employed persons would be taxes at a rate of 2.5 per cent on income up to $15,000.

Half of the program's cost would be covered by general tax revenues, but this would be partially offset by the elimination of Medicaid, Medicare and other medical costs which already constitute a large and growing portion of the federal budget.

"Skyrocketing medical costs are playing havoc with both government and personal budgets," Ford said. "Americans are paying an average of $324 per person each year for medical care — a total of more than $60 billion annually — but we are not getting the proper results. America ranks very poorly, healthwise, in comparison with other industrialized nations.

"For example, we rank 18th in life expactancy for men, 16th in the death rate for middle-aged men, 13th in infant mortality, 11th in life expectancy for women, eighth in the number of physicians, and seventh in infant mortality.

"Americans are simply not getting the health care to which they are entitled as citizens of the richest nation on earth," Ford declared. "We have a patchwork system of health insurance that has left 25 million Americans with no protection whatsoever, and only partial protection for many millions more. Major illness often results in financial catastrophe for many families.

Congressman Ford pointed out that one person in five over the age of 65 is not covered against some of the most costly aspects of medical care, at a time of life when it is most often needed.

"The cost of medical care is fast climbing beyond the reach of all except the very rich," he asserted. "Medical costs have risen more than twice as fast as the general cost of living. Hospital costs have doubled since 1964, and private health insurance premiums have doubled since the late 1950s.

"Arguments that National Health Insurance will socialize medicine, or destroy freedom of choice are nonsensical. Patients will be free to choose their own physicians, and they will be freed from financial worries that often force patients to delay medical care until it is too late."

Professor issues insulation warnings

Some mobile homes sold in Michigan may not have enough insulation for Michigan winters, reports Professor William Morrison, chairman of the Michigan Consumers Council.

For example, last winter Mr. B. from Farmington wrote to the council stating that his furnace did not heat his new mobile home because air was coming in through the walls. Although his heating bill had been running between $30 to $35 a month, he insisted "we are still cold."

Mr. T. from Lake City also complained of high fuel bills and was advised by a heating expert that the insulation in his mobile home was inadequate.

A number of factors may be responsible for heating problems, including the overall quality of the mobile home, the kind of fuel being used, and family use (how many times the doors are opened). Insulation, however, is a major factor in mobile home comfort.

The Consumers Council suggests that anyone shopping for a mobile home check to see that it conforms to the construction standards established by the American National Standards Institute. If it meets the voluntary code, two-inch by three-inch silver seal with the inscription A119. 1 will be placed on the exterior, usually by the main door. This is one indication of quality, but does not guarantee that the home will measure up to Michigan winters.

Next the consumer should ask the dealer specifically whether or not the unit is adequately insulated for Michigan winters. If he indicates that it isn't, the buyer should consider any options for double (or special) insulation which would add approximately $50 to $100 to the cost.

Finally, and most important, consumers should make certain that the claims about adequacy of the insulation, or the instructions for double insulation, be specified in writing in the constract. The, if problems arise, the buyer has a basis for asserting his claims.

Both Mr. B. and Mr. T. had asked about the insulation, and in both instances the salesmen assured them that it was sufficient for a Michigan winter Despite the oral promises, they were still left out in the cold.

District court judge defends, explains action

District Court Judge Gerald A. McNally of the 33rd District Court, Trenton, has defended his action in handling the suit filed against the McLouth Steel Co.

Judge McNally's position was disclosed in a letter sent to Dale J. Uranis, president of the Huron Valley Conservation Association of Belleville.

Judge McNally

recommended that all the facts should be reviewed, particularly those upon which his decision was made, before his integrity is so severely judged.

The Judge explained that municipal court does not have the jurisdiction to levy a fine above $500 in criminal matters and $1,500 in civil matters.

The district courts have been afforded the same jurisdiction in criminal court and an increase of $3,000 in civil.

Judge McNally stated that McLouth Steel appeared before the Wayne County Circuit Court in January, 1971. At that time McLouth was ordered to expend more than $330,000 to control the then existing condition. Since the method has been put into operation no violations have been reported.

Additionally, McNally said, the steel company has spent $20 million in the last 15 years on pollution control. In the last two years, according to Judge McNally, McLouth has spent more on pollution abatement than they have earned in profits.

He reported that the state of Michigan settled out of court in a civil matter concerning this same violation for $1,000. The state contended that this was all the damage done.

Judge McNally thanked the Huron Vally Conservation Association for its interest in the matter and did recommend that such citizen groups actively participate in insisting that companies take steps in pollution abatement.

The judge summed up his position by saying that if the Wayne County prosecutor, the Natural Resources Commission or the attorney general of the state of Michigan deemed a more substantial fine necessary, action should have been brought before a court of higher jurisdiction.

Consumer inquiry to be made in area

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by a representative of the Bureau of the Census in this area during the first week in October, Robert G. McWilliam, director of the bureau's Data Collection Center in Detroit reported.

The survey is made four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to guide governmental agencies in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car or major household appliances during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs made during thelast three months and any planned for the future.

Heirloom ring is returned

By AMY VANDERBILT

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: My daughter was married and is getting a divorce. She received as an engagement ring, a lovely ring that was her mother-in-law's engagement ring. When my daughter left her husband, she left it behind, with a few other things she was going to pick up later, her wedding and engagement rings. When she returned, the ring was gone. Her husband says he returned it to his mother. What is right in this situation? Isn't an engagement ring, after the marriage, the property of the girl to do with what she wants? Now that one in every four marriages ends in divorce, I think this would be of interest to many young women. — Mrs. G.N."

Yes, normally these are the bride's, but in this case where an heirloom ring is involved, the bride usually returns it. Sometimes young people, divorcing without too much bitterness, sell the rings and divide the proceeds. Perhaps in leaving the rings behind she was in effect saying that she didn't want them. Her husband acted accordingly. I suggest that she not insist on having the rings back.

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: I share an apartment with a woman whose business superior (a man) often invites us both to dinner, usually at one of his clubs but never at his home. His wife is always a member of the party which consists ordinarily of just the four of us. In writing a thank-you note for the entertainment, should it be addressed to the boss, his wife or to Mr. and Mrs. ?—V.H."

To his wife. You keep up the fiction that she is the "hostess" although this is probably a business dinner. In the body of the note make reference to her husband ("It was so kind of you both to have us"). Let the person writing the letter sign it, making reference to the other person in the note (Miss Patterson and I both enjoyed being with you so much). Joint signatures are not correct except on postcards and telegrams.

Doreen Dombek is autumn bride of Greg Conrad

In a September 11 ceremony at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Romulus, Coreen Dombek of Belleville became the bride of Greg Conrad of Romulus. The three o'clock nuptials were performed by the Rev. Joseph Kernosek before an altar appointed with potted white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Linda Fox of Detroit was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections for the double ring rite.

Mrs. Josephine Dombek of 19220 Martinsville Road, Belleville, and the late Edward Dombek are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conrad of 13130 Hannan Road, Romulus, are the bridegroom's parents.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her God-father, John Dombek of Taylor, the bride appeared in a toe-touching creation of taffeta fashioned with long sleeves and a rounded neckline.

The maid-of-honor, Diane Dombek, made her sister's headpiece of petals and pearls which secured her fingertip illusion veil. A bouquet of red roses, white mums and baby's breath completed her bridal finery.

For her role as honor attendant, Diane donned a powder blue silk crepe sleeveless frock with a V-neck on the empire bodice. She wore blue and gold ribbon in her hair and carried a nosegay of white and blue mums.

As bridesmaids, Debra Dombek, another sister, and Debra Final of Romulus, were identically dressed.

THOMAS GRECA of Westland served as best man and Fred Ries and the bridegroom's brother, Edward, were ushers.

For the six o'clock reception at the home of the bride's mother, the 150 guests from Detroit, Wyandotte, Taylor, Dearborn, Romulus, and Belleville, were greeted by Mrs. Dombek in a two-piece aqua coat-dress ensemble. Her accessories were also in aqua and she added a corsage of green and white mums to her dress.

The bridegroom's mother donned a two-piece pink outfit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white mums.

Among those attending was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ann Dombek from Florida.

Following a two week honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the newlywed Conrads took up residence on Hannan Road, Belleville.

Both young people are Belleville High School graduates. The bridegroom is currently employed at Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors.

MISS SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Smith of 45821 Harris Road, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley D., to Sammy Spencer of Ypsilanti.

A 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, Miss Smith is currently working as a clerk-typist in the Gift Receiving Office at the University of Michigan.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Spencer of 2071 Bomber Avenue, Ypsilanti, graduated from Belleville High in 1969 and is currently employed as an assembler at Fisher Body, Willow Run.

A March 18 wedding is being planned.

Januszyks honored on silver wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Januszyk of Sumpter Road marked their 25th wedding anniversary during a Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Anthony's Catholic Church with Father Raymond S. Skoney presiding and giving a special blessing to the couple.

Following the service, their son-in-law and daughter, Leslie and Bev Powell, took them out for breakfast at Weber's Inn at Ann Arbor.

On their return, they were greeted by shouts of 'surprise' from friends and relatives who'd gathered to celebrate the silver event. The party was arranged by Mr. Januszyk's four sisters: Mrs. Mary Motowski of Dearborn; Mrs. Kate Dapsi of Lewiston; and Mrs. Helen Pietrzak and Mrs. Jennie Sliwa of Belleville; and his brother, John Jauszyk of Belleville.

A beautiful silver-decorated cake made by Mrs. Verdys Shephard was the highlight of the buffet dinner. Another pleasantry was having Mrs. Katherine Januszyk released from Beyer Hospital to attend the party (she was a patient after suffering a slight heart attack.)

Alex and Doris were married at St. Anthony's Catholic Church when it was located on Main Street on September 21, 1946. Father Alois Guzicki performed the ceremony.

Patricia Jean Popich, daughter of Mrs. Christine Popich of 16250 Wahrman Road, Romulus, and the late Adolph Popich, became the bride of David William Schmoekel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmoekel of 10405 Pardee Road, Taylor, August 28 at St. Stephen's Catholic Church, New Boston.

The double ring ceremony at six thirty in the evening was read by the Rev. Alexander Wytrwal and the Rev. Hartman. Baskets of mums and gladiolas adorned the altar for the double ring rite and music was provided by Cathy Klais and Julie Micik.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal gown of white organza fashioned with an empire waistline, high neck and A-line skirt which cascaded into a chapel train. The dress was trimmed with Venetian lace which was underlaid with apricot satin. The sheer bishop sleeves ended in deep cuffs which were also accented with lace and apricot ribbons.

A THREE-TIERED silk illusion veil in cathedral length and a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

Janet Popich was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Carol Sell of Belleville and Nancy Popich, also sisters of the bride; Mrs. Phyllis Pearson of Woodhaven, the bridegroom's sister; and Dawn Szyndlar of Romulus.

All wore gowns of apricot and white chiffon over apricot taffeta styled with empire bodices, scooped necklines and short puffy sleeves.

White flowers were worn in their up-swept hair-dos and they carried bouquets of apricot carnations arranged in cascade style.

Four-year-old Linda Ann Sell, daughter of the James Sells of Belleville, was her aunt's flowergirl in a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks. The basket she held was filled with apricot carnations and white roses.

The bridegroom's four-year-old nephew, Brian Purcell, son of the George Purcells of Taylor, was ringbearer.

ASSISTING THE bridegroom were his twin brother, Dennis, as best man and Larry Schmoekel of Taylor, another brother; Dan Pearson of Woodhaven, their brother-in-law; and James Sell of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bride, as ushers.

Mrs. Popich wore for her daughter's wedding a pale yellow dress of chiffon over taffeta with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnation and white roses. Mrs. Schmoekel was in mint green chiffon over taffeta with white accessories. Her corsage was of mint green carnations and white roses.

The Romulus Progressive Club was reserved for the reception which followed with 325 guests attending.

Since returning from their honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains and Niagara Falls, the newlyweds have made their home at 20749 Martinsville Road, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Schomoekel is a Romulus High graduate of 1968 who later attended Hubbard-Wayne Beauty College. She is currently employed at Edward's Hair Stylist, Dearborn Heights. Her husband, a 1967 alumnus of John F. Kennedy High School, is in his senior year at Eastern Michigan University. A member of the National Guard, he is employed by Export-Import, Inc., Romulus.

WED UP NORTH—Mrs. Gladys Ford of Petoskey and George Belanger of Belleville were married September 20 at St. Francis Xavier Church by the Rev. Remy Stiglitz, O.F.M. Attendants were Mrs. Herbert Daniel and William Fleming, both of Petoskey. The newly-married couple plan to spend their summers in Petoskey and winters in Zephyrhills, Florida.

Home in Taylor gets 'warming'

JIM AND KATHY Darnell were the honored guests September 19 at a housewarming party given by her parents, the Albert Straubs of Elwell Road, their daughter, Dawn, and Sandi and George Brown, their daughter and son-in-law.

About 65 friends and relatives from Taylor, Romulus, Flint, Fenton, Ypsilanti, and Belleville gathered at 9301 Cornell Street, Taylor, for the celebration. Included among the guests was Kathy's brother, Keith Bruder, who'd flown in from Chicago where he's employed in the Architectural Department of the City of Chicago.

The social get-together from three o'clock in the afternoon on was centered around a buffet supper complete with a special cake made by Mrs. Straub centered with a little plastic house and bearing the inscription "Darnell's Dream House."

Lake Superior tour is just that!

THE SHEPHARDS—Jim and Pat—returned to their Maple Street residence after a week-long circle tour of Lake Superior in their pick-up camper.

Crossing into Canada at Sault Ste. Marie, they visited the cities of Wawa, Thunder Bay and Nipigon and took oodles of pictures of the rocks, wilderness and Lake Superior coastline.

Highlights of the trip included a boat tour through the Locks at the Soo and a breath-taking view of the area from the top of Copper Peak in Ironwood—the only ski flying set-up in America. They also hiked among the Collected Rocks and up Porcupine Mountain for a look at Lake of the Clouds.

50's the number for Mrs. Lunde

A 50th ANNIVERSARY, in itself, is a rare and special occasion but when one has TWO 50-year celebrations in the same year, he (or she) really has something to crow about.

Mrs. Fred (Ina) Lunde is the subject in this case and she and her hubby are just recently returned from her alumni reunion at the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing in Dayton, Ohio. It was 50 years ago that Ina was graduated as a registered nurse and out of the 21 in her class of 1921, 15 are still living with nine of that number in attendance.

It was in November of that same year that Ina and Fred 'tied the knot' that will result in their golden wedding anniversary next month.

Oh yes, Ina's classmates and peers at the celebration were quite amazed to learn she still holds down a full-time job - not as an R.N., though-but as a secretary in the 34th District Court. How's that for stamina?

Romulus grads repeat vows at St. Aloysius'

Four bouquets of mums and gladiolas graced the altar of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Romulus, as Carol Rutkowski approached her waiting bridegroom, Ted Gilliland, on the arm of her father.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutkowski of 37065 Porter, Romulus, Carol chose for her wedding day a peau de soie gown with a satin underskirt. Lace and pearl embroidery frosted the high collar, Camelot sleeves, and bodice of the toe-touching creation. Adding back interest to the full skirt was a train which drifted into chapel length as she walked.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was secured by a Camelot cap encrusted with matching beadwork and her nosegay bouquet was comprised of roses, baby mums, carnations, baby's breath, and lilies of the valley.

THE REV. JOSEPH Kernosek presided at the double ring August rite at five in the afternoon with the 250 assembled guests later gathering at the Romulus Progressive Club for the reception.

Cynthia Wegienka of Romulus was her close friend's honor attendant and Kathy Lorenz; Debbie Zol, cousin of the bride; Linda and Sandra Gilliland, sisters of the bridegroom, all from Romulus, were bridesmaids.

Appearing in identical fashions, Miss Wegienka in apricot and the others in yellow, the girls' dresses were made of cotton voile with long sleeves on the white cotton lace bodices. Cotton lace was also used to trim the high collars, cuffs, skirt borders, and patch pockets.

Their picture hats were made of white straw and their white baskets were filled with carnations, mums, daisies, and baby's breath.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gilliland of 36910 Menton, Romulus, chose Dennis Wessels of Romulus to be best man. Others on the esquire side were Robert Gumtow of Flat Rock; Alan Abdo; and Mark and Gary Rutkowski, brothers of the bride, all from Romulus.

Mrs. Rutkowski wore for her daughter's wedding a long gown of dark apricot with a lace and sequin bodice while the bridegroom's mother was in a lime green formal with sequin trim. Both were presented with white orchid corsages.

Niagara Falls and Quebec City, Canada, were on the honeymoon itinerary for the newly wed Gillilands who are now making their home in Romulus.

Both Carol and Ted are Romulus High School graduates. She is employed in her father's business, Walter's Drug Store, Romulus, and her husband works for Header Products on Wayne Road. Currently attending Schoolcraft College for Tool and Die, he previously had spent two years at Eastern Michigan University.

Chemicals cut costs

Did you know that without the use of chemical fertilizers, insecticides and herbicides, food prices would rise 50 to 75 per cent? One pound of ground beef, now costing between 58 to 89 cents would cost $1.39. Ham slices would rise to $1.79 per pound, bread would go from 25 cents a loaf to 42 and a pound of Cheddar Cheese now costing 79 cents would cost $1.50.

Year to end with $5.9 million deficit

Tight county budget may mean layoffs

An austerity budget which would eliminate 84 jobs and impose a total of $7.8 million in additional cutbacks on county departments has been recommended to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners by the County Board of Auditors.

In submitting the budget, the auditors said some layoffs may be necessary to achieve the cutbacks and thus avoid a budget deficit.

Wayne County will end this fiscal year Nov. 30 with a $5.9 million net deficit, the auditors predicted - the result of $13 million in wages and fringe benefit increases negotiated with county employee unions this year.

The auditors recommended a total budget of $234,413,570 which is $25,735,867 higher than this year's outlays, but $29,208,515 less than the total amount requested by county departments.

The bulk of the budget hike - $16.4 million-is earmarked to meet the increased cost of a welfare relief load which has risen from 5,937 cases on Jan. 1, 1968 to 29,909 cases on July 1, 1971 - a 403.7 per cent increase.

Higher payroll and purchasing costs account for nearly all the rest of the increased size of the budget. Virtually no expansion of county services is recommended, due to the lack of revenue.

The Board of Commissioners began a month of budget deliberations on Monday, Oct. 4. The Commissioners will hear county department heads argue for increases and then decide what changes, if any, to make in the recommendations submitted by the auditors.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19 in the City County Building auditorium. Individuals or group spokesmen may present their views on any items in the proposed budget. Adoption of the final budget is set tentatively for Oct. 29.

In order to make up this year's deficit and avoid one next year, the auditors recommended that county operations be trimmed from last year's levels by a total of $7,877,010 through a device known as a "mandatory savings."

That savings would be added to a $5.9 million mandatory savings imposed this year, raising the total mandatory savings required next year to $13.7 million.

Each county department would have to save its portion of the total amount by reducing its expenditures.

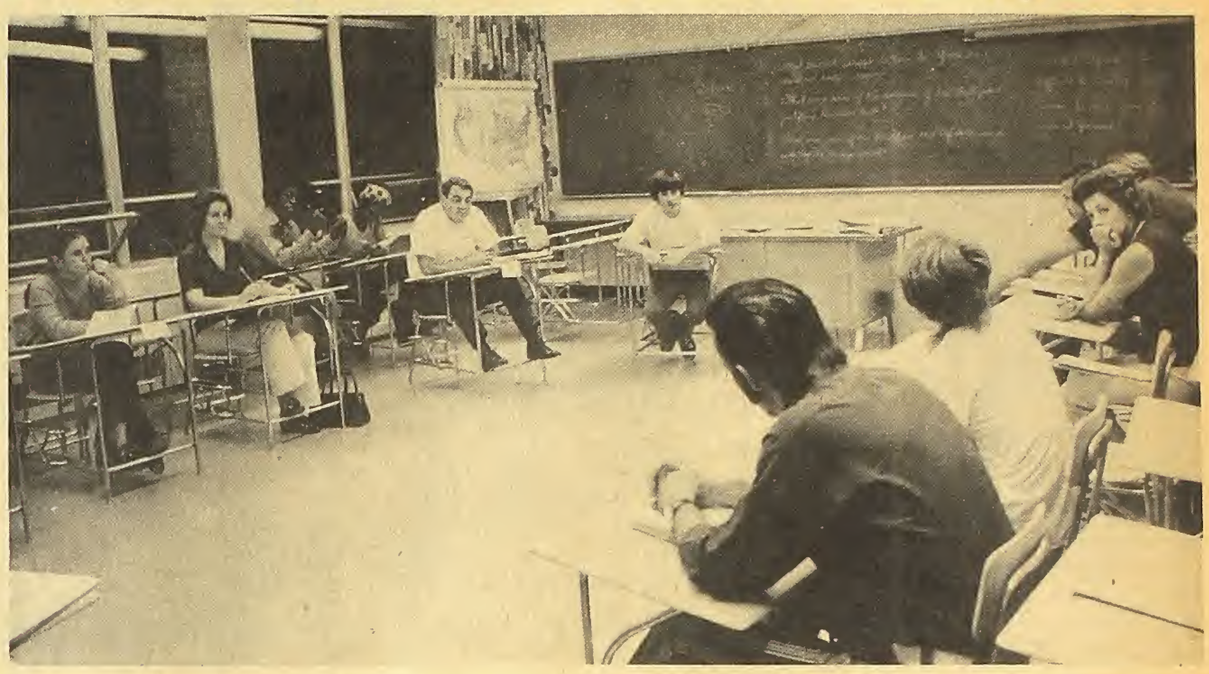
In their budget message, the auditors said realizing the savings may require "reducing staff in the less critical areas of operation to assure the realization of the requested departmental mandatory savings."

The largest single mandatory savings, $4.6 million, would be imposed on Wayne County General Hospital where the percentage of bed occupancy has declined from 81 per cent in 1968 to 67 percent this year. Of the 84 positions which the auditors would eliminate from the budget, 38 would be at the hospital. A budget of $36.2 million is recommended for the hospital, which is the county's single largest operation.

In all, various categories of welfare aid amount to $70,375,000, nearly one-third of the recommended total budget for next year.

However, all but about $12 million of the total welfare outlay will be returned to the county by the state. By law, the county's welfare responsibility is limited to the equivalent of $1 per $1,000 of the county's total equalized property valuation.

A recent act of the State Legislature, taking nearly one-sixth of a mill from the county budget to help finance Wayne County Community College, will cost the county $1.8 million this year, the auditors reported.



ADULT EDUCATION BEGINS — Classes in adult education are underway at Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus. The high school is beginning its second year of community school programming and is showing signs of making great progress. The adult classes generally meet on weekday evenings. The program costs money to organize and administer, but adult classes are underwritten by state and federal funds and are made available to non-diploma students without cost. The adult students shown were part of the opening day classes.

Commissioners back new health proposal

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners, acting on a resolution submitted by Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson, has endorsed congressional legislation which proposes a comprehensive new national health insurance program.

The resolution expresses support for the Kennedy, Corman, Griffiths National Health Security Act now under consideration by the U.S. House and Senate.

Mrs. Robinson, a Democrat representing District 17 on Detroit's west side, called the legislation "a necessary and innovative approach toward the solution of health problems."

"Millions of our citizens, even those who can afford to pay, now get poor and inadequate health coverage," she said, "and millions of others, particularly the poor, get no care at all."

Her resolution cites statistics indicating that the United States ranks 14th among the industrial countries in the first-year death of infants.

Figures are also mentioned which show the United States to be 11th in the percentage of mothers who die in childbirth, and 22nd in life expectancy of males, as compared to other industrial nations.

The resolution stresses shortages of health care personnel, equipment, and facilities. It cities a lack of 50,000 doctors, 20,000 dentists, 150,000 nurses, and 280,000 other supporting health specialists.

The total shortage, says Mrs. Robinson, is expected to reach 725,000 by 1980, if the present health care system remains unchanged.

Other statistics in the resolution indicate that 250,000 more hospital beds are needed, and facilities housing another 250,000 need modernization.

More than half of the 107 medical schools in the country have been granted some form of emergency financial aid, and 10 per cent of them may be forced to close because of financial troubles, the resolution states.

Statistics quoted in the resolution are furnished by the Committee for National Health Insurance, formed from a coalition of various labor organizations. Leonard Woodcock, UAW president, is chairman.

In 1971, health care is considered the first political priority of the UAW and the labor movement, says Mrs. Robison.

She pointed out that Woodcock, in his Labor Day message issued from Detroit, said: "No issue is more important to working people than the drive to assure quality health care at the lowest possible cost."

Under provisions of the proposed National Health Security Act, a National Health Security Board would be established and financed by a tax on payroll and non-earned income and by federal general revenue.

Half the income would come from federal general revenues, 36 percent from the employer payroll tax, and 14 per cent from a tax on wages, self-employment income, and non-earned income.

The program would mean an end to Medicare because it would provide broader benefits, but Medicaid would continue as a supplementary program.

All U.S. residents, including some aliens, would be covered, and none would be billed directly for medical services.

Doctors, hospitals, and other providers of medical services would be paid from a fund administered by the Health Security Board.

National PTA week observed by millions

This week more than 40,000 local PTA's across the nation are observing National PTA week. With a total membership of close to 10 million, the National PTA is the world's largest volunteer organization devoted solely to the welfare of children.

Over the past 75 years, the PTA has become synonymous with just about everything that's American. Its influence has been felt from city councils in small towns to the halls of Congress in Washington, D.C.

PTA has even left its mark on the other side of the world in Japan, where parent-teacher associations have been patterned after the structure of the National PTA.

Like most large organizations, the National PTA has had its share of problems. It has been the target of extremist groups who dubbed it "communist"...has been attacked from within and without...and has been called everything from "do-nothing" to "meddling" by its critics. But it has survived and it continues to grow.

In the words of Mrs. John M. Mallory, president of the National PTA, "PTA has survived because in the PTA we are people taking action. PTA members turn anxiety into action and aspiration into achievement. They find joy and satifaction in working for the public interest. And there is no more important public interest than the children and youth of our nation."

During its long history, the National PTA has urged its local units to adopt a philosphy of personal involvement. The national organization has designed programs and projects of major importance for use at the state and local PTA levels.

Such programs include the National PTA's "Judicial Concern for Children in Trouble." Through a mutual effort of the National PTA and the National Juvenile Court Foundation, a nationwide plan has been designed to use volunteers in the juvenile courts.

Junior achievement program will begin

The 26 business centers of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, located throughout a six-county area, will open for the 1971-72 program year on Oct. 11.

Up to 10,000 high schoolers are expected to attend opening sessions.

Applications will be accepted opening week from young people who missed recruitment at their school.

The program is a learn-by-doing experience that introduces young people to the workings of the American free enterprise system through the organizing and running of their own mini-companies.

Any high school student who is interested may come to the center closest their home Oct. 11-14 between the hours of 7 to 9 p.m. or call area headquarters, 838-4660 (313) for information.

The area JA Business Centers are located at 3199 S. Wayne Rd., Wayne, and at 113 Pearl St., Ypsilanti.

Nursing home banquet to focus on civic role

Mayor Roman S. Gribbs and Robert E. FitzPatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, are co-chairmen of a buffet banquet to be held at Carmel Hall in Detroit, Michigan's largest non-profit nursing home and for the aged and the second largest in the nation.

The event, planned to be the first of an annual series, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 13.

More than 300 legislators, public officials, community leaders and prominent Detroit-area residents have been invited to the dinner, which will include entertainment and an orientation of the home's facilities and operations.

According to Mother Mary Ann, administrator of Carmel Hall, the event is being held to highlight the role that Carmel Hall plays in the Detroit community and to focus attention on the financial problems which threaten the existence of Carmel Hall and other nonprofit homes that depend heavily on federal state aid.

"We hope to dispel many of the false conceptions that people have about old age homes by allowing them to view our facilities and personally speak with our residents," she said.

Owned and operated by the Carmelite Sister for the Aged and Infirm, Carmel Hall, at Woodward and Adelaide, is open to all elderly citizens regardless of race, creed or financial means.

In operation since 1957, the home has more than 450 residents, employs a fully trained medical staff and operates a diversified recreational program.

FitzPatrick, as an administrator of the Suburban Medical Clinic in Livonia, is concerned and familiar with medical and health problems.

"In our society, during a time when the aged are too often ignored, it is important that organizations like Carmel Hall are recognized for the work they are doing in behalf of our forgotten citizens." he said.

Statement issued to Romulus youth

"We would like to remind you that four years from now, you will become an adult.

"You responsibilities will be to pay room rent, feed yourself, buy your clothes, cars and shoes.

"Work is the bread of this life. Train yourself to work and learn to do it well. Be a champion in whatever you do. Crime is a stumbling block in this life. Your record of crime will come up before you when you apply for a good job, just like looking into a mirror.

"We hope that you will give some thought to our thoughts. We also hope you had a rewarding summer."

Officers of the Romulus Neighborhood Coalition are Sonewall Whitworth chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Martin, secretary, Miss Carmen Smith, director, William Jones, counselor, and Mrs. Mary Hearst, Mrs. Lois Hill and Tyrone Phenix, program committee members.

Numerous opportunities available to volunteers

Anyone interested in helping the handicapped can find a wide range of volunteer opportunities for a satisfying use of leisure time at the Easter Seal Center, located near Middlebelt and Michigan, Inkster.

Job descriptions for volunteers range from those requiring skills such as typing or crafts, through driving, leading games or music, to simple posting, collating, mail preparation or serving refreshments and cleaning up after club meetings.

Underlying all of these jobs is simple friendliness in a center designed especially for handicapped people to ensure their being able to do as much as possible without constant help.

The daily craft classes, the year-round clubs for handicapped teens and adults as well as the summer day camp for crippled children are financed from contributions received from the distribution of Easter Seals at Easter time, related special events and the fall membership drive.

Year-round contributions also come from individuals and groups, usually for special purposes. Fund-raising efforts call for volunteers with clerical skills and enthusiasm to aid the small staff.

Other volunteers with craft or home-making interest find equally rewarding roles as assistants in daytime classes or evening club meetings. There is a continuing need for drivers to transport handcicapped individuals to center activities, which provides an opportunity for the development of more personal relationships.

Because the center is like a miniature community in which handicapped people strive to build self-esteem, independence and social skills, each volunteer has an opportunity to see his efforts turned into direct services.

Additional information may be secured by calling the center at PArkway 2-3055.
